Bakker

St. Albert dragged its feet on light rail transit

While Edmonton seems jubilant over its partial transition this week to Light Rail Transit (LRT), St. Albert resident John Bakker, who was very much involved in the original planning of the Edmonton LRT system has expressed disappointment at the attitude of past St. Albert council's to the LRT idea.

Mr. Bakker, former chairman of St. Albert's transportation committee before he left council in 1974 said he was disappointed with the last council under Mayor Dick Plain and also the present council for the lack of foresight on encouraging LRT for St. Albert.

He admitted that St. Albert could not afford a light rail transit system on its own, "We'll have to tie in with Castle Downs." He said the St. Albert Castle Downs tie-in was in the City of Edmonton's plans but complained of the lack of integration between Edmonton and St. Albert council.

Referring to the St. Albert council he said, "They ignore rapid transit to their cost I am sure." And he also added that even if St. Albert avoided road congestion in the future, "rural communities will congest the roads even if we don't." Mr. Bakker was referring to the growth of outlying communities like Morinville and Gibbons, which will only add to road congestion in the future.

Mr. Bakker said he had been on some of the test runs of the Edmonton LRT system since its inception and was also at the opening of the facility this weekend.

The system runs on four and a half miles of track at about twice the speed of a bus. About a mile of the system is underground and it cost $65 million at 1978 prices, $20 million more than planned because of inflation.

Mr. Bakker did not seem disappointed with the Edmonton LRT system after taking the test rides. He said it was "what I expected of it."

One train is the equivalent of eight buses. Please Turn to Page 2

OUTDOOR TIME IS HERE!

Adventure beckons the small fry at Lions Park. With a reluctant spring emerging St. Albert's oldest park will again be filled with youngsters and grownups seeking open spaces, so precious in St. Albert.

OSTRICH EGG?

. . . The chicken that laid the extra large egg must be a little sore after the effort. Mr. Lewis McLay, who brings eggs to the Gazette office each week, says its the largest egg ever laid by any of his hens. It must have been two and a half times the regular size.

Parents vocal over housing and staffing

The Bertha Kennedy school lunch room was the scene of a second public hearing called by trustees of the Catholic School District to discuss housing and staffing.

About 80 parents attended to voice their concerns about split classes and busing mostly in reference to Father Jan and Bertha Kennedy schools. There were also parents worried about class sizes.

The main stumbling block to making everyone happy is finances, but this didn't seem to be reason enough in the view of many parents who said they would be glad to pay more if their children could receive a better education.

One parent whose son had changed schools four times in six years said "To save your (District 3's) buck, I sure don't like the way the stability of this child's education is being effected."

SPLIT CLASSES

Dale Dvorak felt the split class projected for Grade 5 and 6 at Father Jan was unreasonable in that only six of 30 students were in grade five. He said "I think the child would be better off taking a year off rather than going to school under these split class conditions." Mr. Dvorak also felt that an increase in enrollment at the school, which he said was quite possible, would put pupils in an even worse situation. He later pointed out that in the Edmonton Separate System, where he recently completed staffing procedures, recommended Please Turn to Page 7

Garden Centre goes down to MPC axe

A temporary garden centre adjacent to Jasper Auto Parts got the axe at the regular meeting of St. Albert's Municipal Planning Commission Tuesday afternoon.

The application from George's Developments Limited who run a large garden centre at Elk Island about 20 miles east of Edmonton was cut down pretty quickly with Mayor Ron Harvey swinging the first axe.

Sturgeon Road closure poses no problem

An advertisement placed by the City of St. Albert in last week's Gazette regarding the proposed closure of Sturgeon Road has caused some consternation amongst golf enthusiasts and residents of that area. Residents feared that the closure would deprive them of access to Viscount Estates, the golf course and other areas.

However, the city's engineering department elaborated on the situation Tuesday, and the information should put the residents minds at ease. City staff say that the term closure refers to the right of way, and is used only to comply with legal requirements. In reality, the road itself will not be Please Turn To Page 2

It's Volunteer Week in St. Albert

Being "involved" is a way of life in St. Albert and newcomers to our city often express amazement at the activity in the "volunteer sector."

In this sector can be found coaches, committee members, drivers connected with the meals-on-wheels program, brownie and cub leaders; the list is as endless as it is varied. But the people on the list have only thing in common: they serve without self-interest or any thought of monetary gain.

The reason behind their involvement are also varied. But mostly it's just because there's a job to be done and they do it.

It's not a one-sided affair; there are many advantages to "helping out." Horizons are widened, friendships are formed, hidden skills are unearthed, confidence is gained - once again the list is endless.

So, think on these things next time you hesitate in "becoming involved." Join the ranks of St. Albert volunteers and find out what community life is all about.

MORE HISTORY IN THE MAKING

RIGHT BEHIND THE St. Albert Mission sign on the St. Albert Trail lots of development from Abacus Cities - the units will be one, two and three bedroom. Then just to the north of this work is progressing on the site for a 340,000 square foot major shopping centre. The shopping centre should be ready by the fall of 1979 and the apartment development should have first renters by fall of this year.

Our mistake!

In last week's article regarding a residents' protest against a proposed Grandin Road Shopping Centre, two errors were made. The shopping centre is slated for location on the west, not the east side of Grandin Road. Further, an error in spelling was made in the name of one resident, Ken Briscoe.

The Gazette would like to apologize for any misunderstanding which may have resulted from an errant headline published last week.

The story on the wage settlement given to women caretakers in the St. Albert Protestant School District was headlined 'District 3 caretakers win pay complaints.' It should have read 'District 6 caretakers win pay complaints.'

way (the Trail) and will cause congestion," he said.

City Administrator Bob Byron chipped in that the mayor had expressed his own concerns. "I have witnessed many near accidents across the highway because of left hand turn movements," he told MPC. He added that to add more traffic would be an extremely unwise thing to do.

City Engineer Don Corrigan said, "It is just unsafe to allow any further development in that area."

"I can't see that it is not going to impede traffic," said Alderman Bill Shields.

A recommendation that council not approve the garden centre was carried by MPC.

Another request for a garden centre from St. Albert Landscaping to be located at 11 Meadowview Drive had an easier time of it with MPC.

The garden centre would be permanent, with access off the drive.

MPC gave the plant nursery its blessing for a year's duration provided there was a special study of the area to be completed in a 90 day period.

Mr. Byron said the area requested for development had not been looked at in any great detail and had not been subject to the development pressures common to other parts of St. Albert.$

Mr. Shields said these were his concerns also though "I am not opposed to the application or the development itself."

IN OTHER MPC BUSINESS, there were no significant developments in discussions about proposed improvements to the exterior of Sturgeon Electric at the corner of Perron Street and St. Anne Street. But offsite costs seemed to be a problem for local businessman Roger Montpetit who was before the commission on the proposed shop improvements.

A MOTION WAS PASSED which will allow CARMA Developers to relax lot widths in a proposed subdivision development.

MPC MOVED receipt of a letter from Abacus Cities Limited on a proposed pedestrian bridge across the Sturgeon River, to link the upcoming St. Albert shopping centre to Sturgeon Road.

closed until the re-aligned portion is ready to be used in its place.

The Sturgeon road realignment will be carried out in the event that council gives third reading to a bylaw approving the Woodlands project, to be developed by Carma Developers. The bylaw will be read for the third time on Monday, May 1, at the regular meeting of council. The Sturgeon Road is to be re-aligned from Boudreau Road to the sewage pumphouse. A public hearing regarding the road closure is scheduled for Monday, May 15 at 7:45.

St. Albert dragged its feet

INVOLVED SINCE 1961

Mr. Bakker, a transit consultant, has been active in the LRT system since 1961, advising Edmonton on it and making the first sketches of the system in 1961. Those first sketches showed an extension of the line as far as St. Albert "as an afterthought."

There were other detailed studies on the system in 1968 until the North East line from Jasper Place to Belvedere was approved by Edmonton City Council in 1973.

St. Albert had a natural right of way for LRT from the bus station at Hebert Road to the downtown core, but Mr. Bakker pointed out that the past council had not protected this.

Mr. Bakker feels that present road access to Edmonton is at saturation point and says there is "no hope of more commuter traffic into Edmonton."

Director of Marketing and Development for Edmonton Transit Lew Lawrence, told the Gazette the new LRT system allows for extension into other communities and that Edmonton council is now looking at a rapid transit extension study.

He said the overall concept for it was accepted by Edmonton council last year, "but this is still within the boundaries of Edmonton."

St. Albert has been taken into account in the extension plans and the "original plan included a North West corridor option" with right of way up to 122nd Street up to the CN Calder Yards.

One advantage for St. Albert cost wise is that it would not require the costly mezzanine type stations now in the Edmonton LRT system, according to Mr. Lawrence.

While it seems that an extension to St. Albert would only take place in the distant future, Mr. Lawrence felt that the next logical extension of the system would be towards the Alberta Government centre in Edmonton and the University of Alberta. This would take the rails from Jasper Avenue and under and across the High Level Bridge.

About 35,000 people using the government centre and the university would benefit, says Mr. Lawrence.

Other extensions to the system being studied are to Mill Woods which has a population potential of 120,000, "another Saskatoon" as Mr. Lawrence put it, and Castle Downs.

Mr. Lawrence pointed out that St. Albert and Castle Downs are closely related in terms of the development of LRT between themselves and Edmonton.

He says the whole LRT project is under review by Edmonton council "regarding the costs to council for a decision on the next project."

Akinsdale parents object to busing

About 60 frustrated parents turned out last Wednesday evening for an information meeting on the busing of junior high students from the Akinsdale subdivision to W.D. Cuts School in Lacombe Park. Approximately 75 students will be affected by the move.

Most are presently attending Lorne Akins Junior High and their parents would like them to continue doing so. They also feel the administration is adding insult to the injury by charging them bus fare to ride to Lacombe Park when they could walk to Lorne Akins.

The portables which will be a part of the new W.D. Cuts School are also a subject of contention. Parents feel they could be constructed at Lorne Akins and eliminate the need for busing their children out of the area.

Unfortunately (if you are an Akinsdale resident), the Protestant District administration is unable to offer any viable alternatives.

Lorne Akins Junior High is bursting at the seams and will be accommodating grade nine students who have been in Paul Kane High School the past two years. The high school is reaching capacity and no longer has space for the four grade nine rooms. It is expected that within two years Paul Kane will hit the 100% capacity mark.

Students from older subdivisions than Akinsdale are first in line in the Lorne Akins attendance area which includes Sturgeon Heights, Forest Lawn and Braeside. To accommodate Akinsdale students at Lorne Akins would mean busing students from one of these areas to W.D. Cuts and the administration will not do so.

Lorne Akins cannot handle portables, according to administration, because the gym, library and other common-use facilities would be overtaxed. They are also concerned that the increased capacity which additional portables would provide will prolong the building of another school.

The provincial government requires that a system be at 90% capacity in a community with a growth rate of less than five percent per annum averaged over a two year period before it will fund the construction of a new school. The Protestant district built W.D. Cuts and Wild Rose Elementary during a period in which St. Albert's growth rate was more than five percent which requires, under provincial regulations, a capacity rate of 85%.

The district is now reaching the 90% level (St. Albert's growth rate is 3.7%) and is seriously considering a school site in the Akinsdale subdivision to house elementary and junior high students which would be very much like the new W.D. Cuts School.

If everything goes smoothly a new school could be built by Christmas 1979.

In the meantime the district will be putting out between $20-24 thousand per year for two buses needed to transport the Akinsdale students to Lacombe Park. The students will be charged to ride the bus according to a precedent set several years ago which waives fees only to students who must be transferred out of their district in which a neighbourhood school exists. Akinsdale does not yet have a neighbourhood school.

District 6 also held an information meeting at Ronald Harvey School Thursday evening.

At this meeting parents of children in grades 5 and 6 were told of the necessity to house these pupils in the new W.D. Cuts school. A bus route will be determined when applications for busing have been received.

City gets $800,000 for roads from province

The City of St. Albert will receive assistance from the province for the funding of eight arterial roadway projects. The announcement was made by Deputy Premier and Minister of Transportation, Dr. Hugh Horner. A maximum of $800,000 will be available to the city under the arterial roadway capital assistance program.

A portion of the amount has been received by the city in the form of a cheque for $180,587.31 for work undertaken in 1977-78. This will be applied to the costs of the following construction: Hebert Road from Cunningham Road to Arlington Drive, $5,981.80; Sir Winston Churchill from Cunningham Road to Riel Drive, $165,370.30; Gervais Road from Highway 2 to Levasseur Road, $9,235.21.

This program, part of the Alberta Urban transportation policy initiated in 1974 and committed to March 31, 1980, provides for provincial assistance equal to twothirds assistance equal to twothirds of the approved costs of functional planning, design and construction of major arterial routes in urban centres.

Rash of vandalsim hits city

St. Albert R.C.M.P. reported serious vandalism in the Grandin Village and Lacombe Park areas of the city this weekend.

Targets of the spring violence were saplings and road signs along boulevards in the areas concerned.

R.C.M.P. point out that the value of the average sapling is $90.

R.C.M.P. were at a loss to hint at the causes for the vandalism, but there is a suggestion in the regular news release from the R.C.M.P. that parents should keep a more watchful eye on their children Friday and Saturday nights.

A spokesman for the local detachment expressed deep concern at the problem of catching vandals in the act.

He said there were occassions when R.C.M.P. saw groups of (suspects) but it was not easy to go up and accuse them of vandalism without direct evidence.

So the high influx of weekend vandalism, characterized by the end of winter, goes on with other targets being city property and private automobiles.

R.C.M.P. said in their release they had had a moderate week with a large percentage of work relating to traffic violations.

R.C.M.P. said there were 14 specific complaints in the city related to vandalism over the weekend.

St. Albert couple become foster parents

M'BALU KARGBO

The future looks brighter for six-year old M'Balu Kargbo of Sierra Leone, thanks to the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Munroe of St. Albert. The Munroes have "adopted" the little girl through the Foster Parents Plan of Canada.

The Munroes will make a financial contribution of $19 per month which will provide a cash grant or material benefits. M'Balu and her family will benefit from free medical and dental care, free prescriptions counselling by social workers and other special programs. Where possible vocational programs are made available free of charge for foster children, their brothers and sisters and sometimes their parents. The program is aimed at enabling the family to become independent and self-supporting.

M'Balu will correspond with her foster parents, and warm and lasting relationships often result from this contact.

The little girl is the daughter of a farmer and his wife. The family is a polygamous unit, and consists of father Abdulai and his two wives, and three children. One other person is also part of the family.

The family belongs to the Temne tribe as do most people in the village. They speak the tribal language plus Krio, the language of Sierra Leone. They live in a rectangular mud house with an iron roof. To work the farm, they use traditional long and short handled hoes. The main crops grown are rice, coos-coos and cassava. To earn extra income, the family raises chickens.

Money is scarce for the Kargbos. They can barely cover the relatively high tax of $4 levied on the father and school fees and expenses run at $14 for one daughter. Not counting medicine and supplemental food, the family spends an annual total of $18. Their total income is about $40.

The main diet of the family consists of rice, coos-coos and foo-foo, which is made from cassava. The diet is supplemented by bananas, mangoes, and oranges. To obtain water, the family must walk for a quarter-mile to the Mabole River. This situation is somewhat alleviated in the rainy season, when rainwater is caught in buckets and bowls.

The Munroe's new foster child helps at home with household chores. She helps sweep around the house and does light farm work. She spends her free time playing native games with her friends or listening to the old women tell stories of bygone days.

Anyone interested in finding out more about the Foster Parents Plan of Canada can write to the Plan at 153 St. Clair Avenue West, Toronto Ontario, M4V 1P8.

Blood badly needed, clinic is May 4

The St. Albert Kinsmen and Kinette Clubs are once again sponsoring a Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic. The clinic will be held on Thursday, May 4 from 2 to 4 in the afternoon and from 6 to 9 in the evening at the Royal Canadian Legion auditorium, located on Tache Street.

CHQT Radio will be on location in the afternoon and a babysitting service, provided by McDonald's Hamburgers, will be in operation for the afternoon clinic and the evening clinic until 8 p.m.

The Red Cross urgently requires blood donors. Today, surgeons can perform extensive surgery on the stomach, lungs, heart and other vital organs, but only when there is a sufficient supply of fresh blood. Some major operations require as much as 20 pints of fresh blood, yet a regular donor can only donate one pint every three months. This fact plainly emphasizes the constant need for new blood donors.

The average adult has from 12 to 13 pints of blood circulating through his system and a little less than a pint is taken when blood is donated. The fluid portion of the blood is replaced within 24 hours of donation and the red cells are replaced within three weeks.

The majority of persons are able to donate blood. It only requires one-half hour of your time, and it can mean so much to a person awaiting surgery.

Please find the time to attend the Kinsmen and Kinette Blood Donor Clinic on May 4. Give the gift of life.

Historical Society has productive year

Year-end reports of the St. Albert Historical Society as reported in the Society's April newsletter "St. Albert Echoes" give evidence of growth in various areas.

Financial statement shows a bank balance of $17,953, up from $16,702 in 1976.

President Renee Laird outlined the year's activities which included the formation of the Albert Lacombe Foundation, dedicated to the preservation of St. Albert's historical buildings. The Historical Society is represented on the Foundation by Jim Parker, Arlene Borgstede and President Laird. At the 1977 banquet of the Society the Hon. Horst Schmid announced the designation as historical sites of the St. Albert Museum and Bishop's Palace (or Grandin House as it is commonly known). The Society will co-operate with the Foundation in endeavours to renovate these important inheritances from the past.

The president also mentioned the re-location of the North West Mounted Police barracks to Bridge Park where it serves as a tourist information centre and office. The barracks had its beginnings in St. Albert in 1888. About 7,500 visitors from all over the world visited the museum during the year, and Mrs. Laird noted that the Museum room in the Catholic Church basement is sadly lacking in space requirement. The senior citizens were entertained again this year, among whom are the strongest supporters and greatest sources of information said Mrs. Laird.

The Society's officers serving with Mrs. Laird are Bill Oakes, VP., Joan Kirsh, secretary; Ileen Alberts, treasurer; Ruth Horne, Frank Turek and Keith O. Bell, members-at-large. Ex-officers for the 1978 year are Father E. Drouin, Father J. Holland, Ronald Harvey, City St. Albert; Bertha Kennedy, Parish Council; Arlene Borgstede, Heritage Officer and Jim Parker, past president.

HERITAGE OFFICER HAS BUSY YEAR

Heritage Officer Arlene Borgstede reported on her 1977 work which includes the administration of the Father Lacombe Museum which includes cleaning and repairs, hiring of summer staff, purchasing supplies and making bank deposits. She conducted 26 tours through the museum for school classes from various centres, plus delegates from a number of interested groups and conventions. Mrs. Borgstede also visited some classrooms and was guest speaker for several organizations. The Heritage Officer also handles correspondence requesting information on St. Albert, the Society and the Museum, and was able to answer three requests for geneology on early St. Albert families.

Two major housing firms were assisted when they asked for photos from the Society's collection for reproduction, and for a brief history on the community.

Of great importance was continuing the program of collecting historical information and much new material was uncovered both through oral interviews and research. Reels of microfilm from the old Edmonton Bulletin are proving an excellent source of material on many aspects of early St. Albert history. From the Provincial Archives came information on the St. Albert Mounted Rifles and the story of the first Callihoos in the area was brought to light.

Mrs. Borgstede also attended a day-long workshop on Textile Conservation and distributed postcards, booklets and hasti-notes on St. Albert history, and made contact with the Alberta Motion Picture Corporation regarding props for their latest movie. She also contacted Edmonton Catholic Cemetaries on the vandalism in the local cemetery.

The display arranged for the Trade Fair was exhibited at the Women's Institute Rally held in St. Albert and historical souvenirs were provided for groups visiting other parts of Canada.

In December Mrs. Borgstede spent much of the month researching and preparing the Society's response to the questionnaire put out by the Ad Hoc Citizen's Committee on Cultural Facilities. This research was widened to determine the Society's own needs for a new museum building in St. Albert.

All of which points to a rewarding year in the work of the Historical Society, which welcomes all people interested in its work as members, and all financial contributions.

Trade Fair promises music, magic, merchandise!

Residents of St. Albert, may be unaware that right in their own city, they can buy musicial instruments, motorcycles, personalized T-shirts, even burglar alarms? Many don't know that they can hire a local professional to photograph the family, design landscaping or insulate homes.

The St. Albert Chamber of Commerce invites all city residents to attend the third annual Trade Fair to see these and many, many more displays of St. Albert and District businesses.

Dates of the Trade Fair are Friday through Sunday, May 5, 6, and 7, at the St. Albert Arena on Perron Street. Admission is only 50¢ (children under six with parents free). The price of admission gives the purchaser a chance on a trip for two to San Francisco courtesy Fairlie Travel Ltd. Many other prizes will be given away by the participating businesses.

To add to family enjoyment at the Trade Fair, a variety of entertainment has been arranged. A professional magician and barbershop quartet will be performing Friday and Saturday and on Sunday, Grandin Shoppers Mall is planning a big fashion show. As well, demonstrations of various activities sponsored by the City Community Services will be on stage including gymnastics, belly dancing and the "Groovy Grannies" choir.

Last year's Trade Fair was a great success with 7,000 in attendance and it is expected this year's will be even more successful. The Chamber of Commerce invites all St. Albert and district residents to "come meet your neighbors" at the Community Trade Fair, May 5, 6 and 7.

Downtown core good sport for traffic analysis

The technocrats at City Hall interested in traffic impact analysis, would have a field day if they parked their cars at any point surrounded by the Professional Building-Gazette and St. Albert Pharmacy buildings.

The coming of the Professional Building has provided a boost to the downtown core with such goodies as the Bookshelf and the Settlement Restaurant. Future expansion of the St. Albert Pharmacy could provide yet another commercial boost.

But the growth in this segment of the downtown core provides hell to drive through.

Making the left turn from Perron Street across St. Anne Street, then into the alley behind the pharmacy makes you vulnerable to St. Anne Street traffic westbound, then vulnerable from vehicles backing away from the laundry, then from vehicles driving out from the front of the Professional Building.

The danger is not over then because cars which have to park behind the Gazette can be hit by traffic coming from the parking lot behind the Professional building - there is only about a two second reaction time at the most to cars darting out from the back of that building.

Some kind of signal alerting traffic in the lane of cars accelerating up that incline is definitely needed. One woman said she practically stood on her brakes and was just shaking after nearly being hit in this way.

The reverse of this process starts when you have to drive from the back of the Gazette building or the Laundry-O-Mat building. A further complication is cars parked in the lane parallel to the Professional building.

There are dozens of near misses every day and it is only a matter of time until someone is hurt. The utility fence located on the front corner of the Professional building adds to the hazard, since it obscures vision of traffic coming in or going out on the lane. A driver must have his vehicle nosed into the traffic before he can see what is coming. Someone can turn right from St. Anne Street into the lane and be almost on top of a vehicle going out before either driver can see what is coming, and there is little if any, leeway to swerve out of the way - another "stand on the brakes" situation.

For people facing this situation week in and week out during business hours, it was astonishing to hear Alderman Breadner say, during a discussion on downtown parking that the parking agreement for the Professional building was a good example of what is needed in the downtown core.

It's alright for technocrats and council members to do their planning from city hall on downtown core traffic problems. But the only place you usually see them is at city hall, cossetted from many of the day to day problems which work-a-day St. Albert residents experience in their regular routine.

St. Albert's city hall is a planner's paradise.

To The Editor

No smear intended!

I have just received my family allowance cheque and accompanying it was a leaflet from Health and Welfare Canada asking "Have you had a pap test recently?" Please excuse me if I do not quote this in french also.

Anyway, my answer to the question must be no, and I wonder whether you or any of your readers can enlighten us mere males as to how we can obtain this test.

John Grave, St. Albert.

Farm women and ASWAC

As a farm woman, I feel strongly that my concerns and the concerns of other rural women are not seen as priorities by the people who make policy.

I would like to know, for instance, why we can't get operating loans to farm on our own.

Why isn't day care available to us? People in the cities may have trouble finding good day care, but for us, it's non-existent -- even though our taxes support it.

We pay taxes for other social, educational and recreational facilities, too -- stadiums, sports rinks, libraries, colleges and technical schools. But how many are located close enough for us to use them?

The same goes for such services as alcoholism and marital counselling.

These are priorities to me, and I want to see them taken seriously.

That's why I've joined the Alberta Status of Women Action Committee. Members of ASWAC are working to give us women more say about what happens to us and our families. They need help and support from all of us.

If you want to find out more about ASWAC and how to join it, write to me at P. O. Box 33, Minburn, Alberta, T0B 3B0.

Our school boards work in mysterious ways

At a meeting held at Lorne Akins Junior High on Wednesday, April 19; attended by too few parents, the rationale for busing Akinsdale students from that subdivision to the far northwest Lacombe Park Dr. Cuts' school was presented. Those concerned parents who did attend were informed of a predetermined decision which was inflexible. We also learned that the new school would be populated to such an extent that "portable" classrooms would be incorporated.

The necessity for junior high school students to go from the extreme southeast to the extreme northwest of St. Albert is that Lorne Akins J.H. is bursting at the seams. Portable classrooms for this school aren't practical as other facilities such as the gymnasium aren't adequate, for the present enrollment. For some unknown reason no plans for expanding Lorne Akins have been brought on stream.

The parents learned at this meeting that the elementary/junior high school planned for Akinsdale would not be built for at least three years. We were also informed that when (or if) it is built, children who come to live in the new Wildwood subdivision would be bused to this school.

It appears as though the school district has its priorities mixed up. Rather than expand existing facilities which would accommodate junior high students from the existing Forest Lawn core, Akinsdale and Wildwood it is planned to have a shuttle bus system operated at high expense. What good is a school in Akinsdale five years down the line, when the greater percentage of students in that area will have passed that level.

The real shame of this April 19 meeting was that no member of the school trustees or the elected municipal body attended to account for the lack of planning. It's too bad, as the real losers in this game, once again, are the children. Those going to Dr. Cuts won't be able to participate in the necessary extra curricular activities unless the parents transport their children themselves.

For this we pay taxes.

Barrie Burton, Akinsdale.

Volunteers worth weight in gold

This is National Volunteer Week and it seems to be a good time to draw attention to the invaluable contribution made in our community by volunteers.

They can be found everywhere and in all sizes and ages: delivering meals, raising money to help equip a teen centre, coaching teams of young people in various sports, etc., etc. More often than not, they aren't even very visable but are quietly, and without fanfare, just being good neighbours.

I appreciate the opportunity, Mr. Editor, to publicly say thank you to all these good people on behalf of our community; they are worth their weight in gold.

Ronald H. Harvey, Mayor.

Says nix to Woodlands

As bad as St. Albert's traffic problems are, some members of council are prepared to make them become worse. At the April 17 meeting of council a bylaw passed first and second reading and would have the effect of adding several hundred vehicles to St. Albert's congested traffic arteries.

Bylaw No. 40/77 for rezoning the Woodlands area would enable immediate development of a subdivision providing for a population of some 2,200 people. In spite of the inadequacy of existing access routes and the absence of any firm commitment for alternate access routes for the east side of St. Albert five members of council supported this bylaw.

In recent years the people of St. Albert have seen the growth of St. Albert far outpace the growth in its transportation access to Edmonton. We remain, however, with effective solutions which are no more than "lines on a map." The writer hopes that before third reading of the bylaw is given on May 1 these members of council will agree that transportation development and housing development should proceed in a co-ordinated manner and, in so agreeing, oppose the bylaw at that time.

D. Norton, Braeside.

Women will tackle serious problems at National Conference

The Calgary Local, Council of Women in hosting the 1978 National Council of Women of Canada Conference at Banff Springs Hotel on May 14 - 18. 1978 marks the 85th anniversary of the national council and the 65th of the Calgary Council.

"New Heights" is the theme of the conference, which will take a look at the past, present and future of the National Council. Senator Joan Neiman will speak on the need for re-assessment of the role of the Council in Canada, and the possibility of establishing new procedures relating to resolutions. This is necessary because of the new consultation processes initiated by the federal cabinet.

Delegates will amend, defeat or support 15 resolutions on child abduction, plight of children in the Ukraine, pornography, the use and cultivation of marijuana, a coding system for food, reversal of support for fluoridation, the research and monitoring of acid, rain and clean water supplies for human settlements.

Resolutions will also be put forward on nuclear plant moratoriums, an environmental impact assessment act, mental health services, averting strikes in essential services and income tax deductions for volunteers.

Marjorie Norris, a past president of Calgary Local will chair the conference.

smaller class numbers for split classes than the St. Albert Board was going with.

Deputy Superintendent George Soetaert explained that the pupil/teacher ratio in Father Jan was favourable (its projected to the lowest in the system at 20.65:1) and that he didn't think Mr. Dvorak's prediction of a higher enrollment would come about. The split classes occurred in Father Jan as well as other schools, in an attempt to balance resources equitably across the district; "we can't have small classes in Father Jan (the result of eliminating split classes) and large classes in other schools."

FRENCH IMMERSION

One woman had a rather different opinion of Father Jan. She said her boy had a mark on his head from where a teacher had kicked a mouse out of the way. The boy said he wasn't going back "unless those mice are cleared out of there!"

Board Policy Committee Chairman Ann Smith replied that the school building wasn't the factor that counted; it was the teachers who made the difference. She received a round of clapping from the many Father Jan School supporters who are obviously quite dedicated to the idea of retaining the school's community identity.

Another woman was under the impression that the Catholic District was subsidizing French Immersion at the expense of the regular student body but, Deputy Superintendent Soetaert assured her the French Immersion program was funded equally in terms of provincial grants and treated equally by district administration interms of class sizes (which would include split classes if warranted) and other decisions. French Immersion courses do receive an additional nine percent funding by the Federal Government.

Bill McLachlan and Kay Romeril, both parents of pupils at Vital Grandin School wanted assurance that class sizes would be monitored at that school to avoid a class-size problem they ran into last year. Mrs. Romeril commented that her child had already lost the music program because of budget cuts. Mr. Soetaert explained that the staffing policy had been worked with total enrollment (District wide) of 80 over the present year and did not see any problems in this area. He said the problem of a decline in enrollment would be more serious.

Trustee Al Alain interjected that the people may be misinformed if they thought they could come running to the Board in the Fall for staffing changes. He said the Board was trying to set a long range program that would be fair and equitable to everyone.

Albert Lavoy who has children in Albert Lacombe and V.J. Maloney asked "are we here to put input in terms of a proposed plan or are you in fact telling us what you are going to do?"

Trustee Alain pointed out that the committee was trying to establish policy in staffing and housing and not the specifics which were being addressed by most people. The specifics were administrative conditions.

Mr. Lavoy asked if it were possible at this meeting to give the Board direction to increase staff and thus reduce the pupil/teacher ratio?

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

Finance Chairman Ken Porter said 'yes' but that keeping an equivalent staff and equivalent programs would run the Board at a deficit of $180,000 and to add staff might run this figure to $250,000. This, he said, was not small money but big money. Making up the deficit would involve taxing Catholic district ratepayers an additional $126 on average. And the deficit already includes a six mill increase (one mill greater than the Protestant District which recently brought down a budget calling for a five mill increase). He later pointed out that the Board was currently carrying over a $54,000 unsupported debt from last year due to building costs.

Ann Lavoy said her child got C's when in a large class and now that the class was smaller the marks had risen to an A standing. She said Trustee Alain told her during the election campaign that his experience at NAIT suggested smaller classes were much more effective. She was willing to pay extra for a better education for her child and wouldn't 'buy' the Board's argument against increasing taxes.

Ken Porter explained all ratepayers must be taken into consideration when setting a budget and that the Board's long range budgeting approach was directed at ending the financial straights they now were in. He said, "We are not even up to the provincial average regarding the pupil/teacher ratio." He said he had four children attending Albert Lacombe and was speaking as a parent as well as a businessman.

He pointed out that parents were willing to switch to the Protestant District now because of the lower mill rate and large companies and corporations which are coming to St. Albert might also assess their taxes to District 6 if the mill rate gap between the two Boards was to grow too big. He said the Board must try to match the mill rate set in District 6.

Many parents were still not satisfied with the financial implications over-riding the educational concerns which they had for their children.

Superintendent Bill Zielinski told the audience that there were no cold hard facts which suggested that split classes were detrimental to students.

Ted Baldwin, District 3 secretary-treasurer gave an account of other financial pressures on the Board including a 'totally inadequate' provincial funding of new school buildings which penalizes a growing district like number 3. The district gets a per square foot grant which is lower than the lowest possible per square foot cost in constructing a new facility. He said there were also inflationary factors as well as the growing cost of energy. He added that the provincial funding seemed to be following the general desire of the public and that District 6 was fortunate in being able to expand within the buildings they owned before the rapid growth of the city.

THE PEOPLE VOTE

Eventually Trustee Jerry Manegre seemed to get a handle on the meeting by suggesting the people take a vote on the decision to increase the pupil/teacher ratio to 20.81:1 from 19.68:1. This would tell the Board whether or not the ratepayers attending this meeting desired the Board to be financially responsible (an affirmative vote) or not.

Trustee Porter pointed out that if the Board was faced with asking for an increase in mill rate much larger it would be forced to go to a plebiscite and Board Chairman Steve Sieben added that the record showed no Board had ever won the increase in this manner.

When Board Policy Committee Chairman Ann Smith called for the vote a large majority went along with the increase in pupil teacher ratio, several abstained and no one voted against.

POLICY SET

The committee called an end to the public input and resumed their meeting after coffee. They unanimously voted to bring before the next Board meeting (May 1) recommendations that the student/teacher ratio be set at 20.81:1 and that the housing policy (as published April 12 and 19 in the Gazetee) be adopted.

As the Board Policy Committee and the Board itself have identical membership, housing and staffing policy for the school year 1978-79 has virtually been set.

STAMP OF APPROVAL

. . . Travel Alberta representatives were on hand at the Travel Industry Association of Alberta's convention held in Peace River to unveil the "Stamp Around Alberta Holiday Passport" books. Each delegate received a holiday passport and shown above is a few of the Midnight Twilight Tourist Association, (zone 14) delegation getting their passports stamped from Zone 8. CSAB investigating motor bike problem

To some concerned St. Albert residents, the advent of spring means more than balmy weather -- it also brings the intrusive roar of motor bikes. This concern has been taken up by the Community Services Advisory Board, who has formed a Two Wheeled Motorized Vehicles Committee, to look into the matter.

In her report on CSAB activities to council's committee of the whole Monday night. Mrs. Doreen Rowe said the motor vehicle committee has several areas of concern it wished to investigate, including noise pollution, safety, trespassing It will also look into the possibility of designating a specific site for the use of such vehicles. The committee still needs more volunteers to complete its hoped-for complement of four.

The CSAB has also formed a committee to study the Civic Grants Program, Mrs. Rowe told council.

In regard to the CSAB Ad Hoc Committee on Culture, Mrs. Rowe affirmed the receipt of a note from council expressing concern about the wording of material released by the committee. Aldermen Breadner and Shields commented that they felt more emphasis should have been placed on program needs rather than the need for facilities. Mr. Shields said this emphasis on facilities might raise expectations. Mrs. Rowe responded that program needs were so tied to facility needs that the two were difficult to separate.

The CSAB is also empowered to serve as a police commission and Mrs. Rowe said the committee needed education to fulfill this aspect of their duties. To aid them in this, meetings are being set up with the Solicitor General's department, and with Staff Sergeant Siemens of the local RCMP detachment.

The final concern of the CSAB dealt with recent violence in St. Albert Saints games. Mrs. Rowe said the board wished to discuss the city's role in the conduct of players in city-owned facilities. The CSAB, she said, wishes to advise council on specific issues of hockey violence, an issue the importance of which was recently underscored by the death of a young Quebec hockey player.

Ald. Margaret Smith said the arrangements between the city and the team was a commercial one, as leasor and leasee and questioned the right of council to intervene.

Council met with the CSAB to discuss this and other matters last night.

Conservatives draw crowd to Red Barn

Upwards of 600 people attended the dance sponsored by MLA Ernie Jamison and the St. Albert Progressive Conservative Association in the Red Barn last Friday evening, including Mr. Peter Elzinga, MP for the Pembina Riding, and MLA George Topolniski, of Redwater-Andrew.

A number of birthdays and anniversaries were celebrated that evening, including Jeanne Maurier and Ed Kryskow, both 29, and Danny Boisvert, everybody's favourite band leader, and Mrs. Boisvert who marked their 25th wedding anniversary. Four lucky people won Dinners for Two at district restaurants and everyone enjoyed a delicious steak supper. The crowd represented a good cross section of St. Albert and the neighbouring towns, hamlets and rural areas comprising the constituency.

LETHBRIDGE CLOSES GAMES OVAL

The Lethbridge city council recently voted to permanently close the $300,000 Canada Winter Games speed skating oval. Alderwoman Vera Ferguson, who proposed the motion, said the move was necessary to reduce costs. Estimated cost of operating the rink this year was $40,000. Because of the nature of the area, which experienced a lot of strong winds, there was a continuing problem of sand and grit on the ice surface. To qualify for a Games facility the oval could not be covered and to cover it later would be a costly proposition. The oval was one of only three in North America.

Planning changes in woods for city

The day could be coming when "for recommendation to the ERPC" (Edmonton Regional Planning Commission) will be missing from St. Albert Municipal Planning Commission agenda, in subdivision matters.

If the provincial government gives St. Albert authority to set up its own subdivision approving body it will no longer have to go through the ERPC for the approvals.

Last week St. Albert City Manager Bob Byron, explained that an application was made February, but that St. Albert had been told to reapply after the new planning act came into effect April 1.

He says that St. Albert meets all the criteria and it's better for St. Albert to have control over its own matters.

Under the new planning act, communities which have a municipal planning commission, a planning department, a general plan and a land-use bylaw, can apply to the minister of municipal affairs for their own locally controlled subdivision authority.

Under the old act, all subdivision matters have to be approved in the local municipality and then they are sent on to the regional planning commission for the area. In the Edmonton area this body is the ERPC.

Edmonton and Calgary are exceptions. They go to their respective commissions only for zoning changes to their neighborhood outline plans.

The new planning act came about when other provincial cities asked for independent controls over their subdivision planning.

St. Albert will be making its application in the near future.

Christian women meet for brunch

Spring's arrival has not gone unheralded by organizers of the St. Albert Christian Women's Club Brunch, to be held Thursday, May 4 at the St. Albert Inn from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. Helping to prepare club members for the coming season will be Mrs. Lois Hole, of Hole's Vegetable Farm, who will give a talk on gardening entitled "Growing Together."

As always, the meeting will be brightened by the sound of music, in this case a vocal duet by Herta Thiessen and Lorraine Carter.

The club has been fortunate in obtaining the services of Mrs. Helen Baugh, who is founder and national chairman of Christian Business and Professional Women's Councils and National vice chairman of Christian Women's Clubs. Mrs. Baugh travels extensively on this continent and abroad, and is a welcome speaker in cities across Canada and the U.S.

Anyone wishing to attend the brunch should note that reservations are essential and cancellations necessary. Tickets are $4 per person and can be obtained by calling Diana Unrau at 458-9672 or Lorraine Carter at 459-7100. A nursery service is available at the St. Albert Inn at a cost of $1.50 per mother. Please bring a toy for each of your children.

School may start earlier next fall

Trustees of the Protestant School Board will be presented with a recommendation to have the 1978-79 school year commence Monday, August 28 at tonight's regular meeting.

They will also look at two alternatives in addition to the one already mentioned.

One would have the school year remain consistent with last years, with registration following Labour Day on September 5, and first day of classes September 7, 1978. Christmas holidays would commence December 23 and the children would be back in classes on January 3, 1979.

The school year, in this option, would include 191 days of instruction in the classroom for elementary and junior high schools. Total days of operation would be 198 including conventions and organizational days.

Operational days are all those during the year during which a teacher renders service to the district and include the non-instructional days involved in registration, organization, curriculum planning, teacher-parent consultations, teacher institutes, teachers' convention, and other professional activities designed to improve instruction in the classroom.

The second alternative is an adoption of a school year similar to one adopted by the Edmonton Public School Board.

It would feature 197 operational days including 189 instructional and would commence August 31, 1978 with registration on September 5. First day of classes would be September 6.

The Christmas break would be extended from last year to two weeks from December 23 to January 7 inclusive. The rational for an extended break at Christmas is the fact that an increasing number of people are taking winter vacations and Christmas is prime time.

All proposed school years have a fixed Spring Break from March 24, 1978 to April 2, 1978.

The proposal which is expected to receive most serious consideration is one which would extend the operational year to 200 days, the number set out in provincial government guidelines.

It would have the teachers in the classroom for 190 days, a number favoured by Superintendent Elmer Gish. It also means that school opening would be August 28, 1978 and professional development time for school teachers would be cut completely at the high school level and reduced from two days to one day at the elementary and junior high levels.

The administration feels activities related to professional development can be conducted during operational days and during the Teachers' Convention in February in addition to allocations for teacher conferences and teacher in-service provided for in the 1978 budget.

Students, under this option, would register for classes on August 30, 1978 and would begin attending classes on September 5.

In all three proposals the last instructional day would be June 27, 1979.

Paul Kane has a fewer number of instructional days (186) in the year but, each day is longer, giving high school students more classroom time over the year.

VOLUNTEER HELPERS

IF YOU DON'T HAVE 10 INCHES* OF INSULATION IN YOUR ATTIC, YOU'RE LOSING HEAT AND WASTING MONEY.

If your home is like 90% of Canadian homes, it's not properly insulated. This chart gives you an idea of how much you could save by bringing your home from the average level of insulation up to today's recommended standards. Of course, as energy costs go up, so will these savings.

	Oil Heat	Gas Heat	Electric Heat
ST. JOHN'S	$209	N/A	$296
FREDERICTON	$204	N/A	$215
MONTREAL	$195	$176	$202
TORONTO	$159	$115	$242
WINNIPEG	$237	$162	$320
REGINA	N/A	$130	$390
EDMONTON	$228	$140	N/A
VANCOUVER	$130	$120	$199

These savings are based on a typical 2-storey pre-war home of 1,100 square feet
*Based on insulation material with R-3 value per inch (2.54 cm)

NOW HOMES BUILT BEFORE 1946 ARE ELIGIBLE FOR A HOME INSULATION GRANT OF UP TO $350.

If your home was built before 1946, is your principal residence, and is three storeys or less, you're eligible for a taxable grant of ⅔ of the cost of your insulation materials, up to a maximum of $350 (retroactive to materials purchased on or after September 1, 1977).

For FREE and complete information about how to insulate your home and how to apply for a grant, send in the coupon below.

Air Cadets in Review

ST. ALBERT R.C.AIR C. #533 SQUADRON

#533 RC(AIR)C deviated from regular classes last Thursday, when a special presentation from the HAM Radio Club was put on. Special guests were Mr. Sid Jones, who has been an operator for 44 years, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gillespie, who have a combined time of approximately three years as operators. Two films were shown, "CB Into Ham Radio" and "So This Is Ham Radio," along with talks of their operation and question and answer periods between the films, as well as after. Pamphlets and general information handouts were distributed to a very enthusiastic and interested groups of cadets and staff. We would like to thank those who - came for taking the time to show this program to #533 Air Cadets.

Our squadron hosted #699 Squadron last Tuesday during regular sports practice. We were challenged in volleyball, bordenball and basketball. #699 won volleyball and #533 won in bordenball and basketball. Refreshments were served after the games and welcomed by all. #699 also returned home with their "missing" mascot.

#533's Band and Colour Party will be partaking in #12 Squadron annual inspection on Friday, April 28, 1978 and a performance will also take place at that time. A practice was held at Griesbach on Tuesday, April 25, 1978. The bus will leave the Community Hall at 1715 hours sharp on Friday.

Zone competitions are on this Saturday and Sunday at Griesbach. All cadets taking part are to be at the Griesbach Gym at 0900 hrs. This is an all day event and lunch will be served to cadets, at the mess. We expect a good turnout of cadets which should make for some strong and interesting competition.

Girls or boys, 13 years of age or over, interested in joining Air Cadets is asked to contact the Administration Officer Thursday evenings at the Community Hall, 459-7277, or come down to the Community Hall at 7 p.m. for information.

Sam and Rose Gosselin prepare to cut the wedding cake on the occasion of their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary, celebrated in St. Albert.

Gosselin's celebrate 50th anniversary

Sam and Rose Gosselin celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on April 1, 1978, beginning with Mass conducted by Fathers Ubald Duchesneau and Don McDonald in St. Albert Roman Catholic Church at 4 p.m. The couple was attended by Rose's sister and her husband Aurelie and Nick Gusta.

Their daughter Rose-Marie sang two songs, When I Grow Too Old to Dream and Roses of Picardy, and the hymn Panis Angelicus, and their grand-daughter Lise Graham played Ave Maria and The Way We Were on the flute, both accompanied by Bertha Kennedy on the organ.

Dinner was served to 100 guests at St. Albert Inn and just before grace was said the honoured couple were presented with yellow roses by 15 grandchildren and one red rose by their great grand-daughter.

Rosario (Sam) Gosselin and Rose Sale were married in Athabasca, Alberta on April 10, 1928. Sam had the pool room and barbershop in Athabasca at the time but they later moved to Edmonton which was to be their home for 30 years. Mr. Gosselin operated Sam's Barber Shop in the Greyhound Bus Depot in Edmonton until his retirement one and one-half years ago. At that time the couple moved to Victoria, B.C.

The Gosselins have four daughters, Mrs. Dorine Dowell, St. Albert; Mrs. Rose-Marie MacDonald, Mississauga, Ontario; Mrs. Laura Burzuk and Mrs. Noella Graham, both of Victoria, B.C., 15 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Around Town

Sid and Renee Booth are spending about 10 days visiting at the home of their daughter Vivian, son-in-law Dave Webster and granddaughter Erica on Larose Drive. The former residents of Sonora Drive have recently returned from a trip in their motor home to California, Arizona and Mexico and both are looking extremely well. (I promised Renee I wouldn't mention any weight gain). The Websters entertained a number of friends and relatives Saturday and many were the good laughs enjoyed as Renee and Sid recounted some of their travel experiences. The Booths are now making their home at Comox, B.C. and report that they are often in touch with other St. Albert residents who have retired on the coast. Les and Helen Morby, both doing well.

The Gazette was visited last Saturday morning by yet another irate citizen with a grievance against -- you guessed it -- the ever popular post office. The gentleman had just paid a visit to a shut-in at the Sturgeon General Hospital and had occasion to purchase some stamps while on the hospital premises. The post office was represented in this case by a handy-dandy stamp machine, which yields up a package of six stamps for a payment of 50 cents. However, the catch lies in the fact that the machines have not been changed over to accommodate the new 14 cent stamps. The package contained four 12 cent stamps and two ones. As a result, only one letter can be mailed out of this combination, unless one is willing to put 24 cents on one letter. Our disgruntled visitor pointed out that it was unfair to unload the surplus 12 cent stamps on those laid up in hospital, who have no access to other sources of stamp supply.

TARTAR SIGNALS GUM DISEASE

One of the first signs of gum disease is tartar which is formed when bacteria and food particles build up and accumulate near the gum line causing the gums to swell and bleed. If it is left unattended, tartar produces poisons which attack the bone around the tooth, the bone recedes, the tooth loosens and it eventually comes out.

Conference to focus on Ukrainian history

The Canadian Institute of Ukrainian Studies at the University of Alberta is sponsoring a conference on the entire spectrum of Ukrainian history.

The conference, which will consider important occurrences from the 10th through the 20th centuries, will take place at the University of Western Ontario in London, Ontario, May 29-31.

About 150 Ukrainian historians from Canada and the United States are expected to attend the conference which will be held within the framework of the annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Slavists.

Sessions on the historical legacy of Kievan Rus', Ukraine and the Muslim world, Ukrainian elites, Ukraine and the Russian revolution, and the role of the city in Ukrainian history will be conducted.

A round table discussion on the problems of terminology and periodization in the teaching of Ukrainian history will conclude the program.

The Canadian Institute of Ukrainian Studies will publish the proceedings of the conference.

Other organizers of the conference are the Harvard Ukrainian Research Institute and the Ukrainian Historical Association.

For further information and registration materials, contact the Canadian Institute of Ukrainian Studies, 335 Athabasca Hall, University of Alberta, T6G 2E8, Telephone 432-2972.

Astrologers gather for workshop

Well-known American astrologer, Al H. Morrison, comes to Edmonton April 28 to 30 as special guest lecturer at the second annual Astrology Weekend Workshop sponsored by the Continuing Education Division of Grant MacEwan Community College.

Mr. Morrison, who resides in New York City, has taught Astrology for 15 years and has helped to found a dozen astrological organizations. He has been three times president of the Astrologer's Guild of America, Inc. and is presently the elected executive secretary of the Congress of Astrological Organizations, a body that encompasses over 60 organizations and several thousand practicing astrologers.

Mr. Morrison has been frequently invited to lecture at major conventions in the United States, Britain and France. His most notable publication of The Void of Course Moon Ephemeris which appears annually at the vernal equinox.

The weekend workshop taught by Al Morrison will be held at the Mill Woods Campus of the college, Friday, April 28, 7 - 10 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mr. Morrison will focus on vocational astrology covering some 15 different areas within this field. He will consider the individual's subjective orientation and basic attitude towards vocation, some astrological signatures of vocation, relocation in search of vocational success, cycles of vocational direction and the exceptional individual.

Further information on this special workshop is available from the Continuin Education Division, Grant MacEwan Community College, at 462-5550. The workshop fee is $30 and preregistration is advised.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS -- Terry Clements, centre, of West Web Press in Edmonton presents cheques for $150 each to West Web Press scholarship winners Minner Hanson and Kelly Cartwright. Housing for summer session being set up

The University of Alberta is making special arrangements to house students during its summer session.

Normally students enrolled in summer session are accommodated in the large Lister Hall Residence Complex, but this summer the complex will be in use as the athletes' village for the XI Commonwealth Games being held in Edmonton. As a result, alternate housing for summer session students is being arranged and those planning to enroll for study at that time are being encouraged to register for accommodation prior to May 31 or, if possible, to make their own housing arrangements.

During recent summer sessions approximately 400 students, slightly more than one third of the total enrolled, relied on university accommodation. This year during the July 4 to August 15 session almost that many beds will be provided through the use of rooms in St. Joseph's College, the Pembina residence, St. John's Institute, and some of the HUB apartments.

No accommodation problems are anticipated during the earlier spring session.

Those students desiring further information about university accommodation this summer are advised to contact the department of housing and food services, Lister Hall, University of Alberta. Telephone 432-4281

Winnifred Stewart blitz to help fund playground

Slide, bridge and walkway system in Parker Stewart Memorial Playground at Winnifred Stewart School promotes muscle development and co-ordination.

June 17 last summer was an eventful day for the children at Winnifred Stewart School for the Mentally Retarded. The founder of the school, Dr. Winnifred Stewart came from her home in British Columbia especially for the occasion. Members of the local community turned out to express their best wishes. What everyone was waiting for, especially the children, was the opening of the Parker Stewart Memorial Playground.

Dedicated to the memory of Dr. Winnifred Stewart's late son, Parker, who himself suffered Down's syndrome, once known as mongoloid retardation, the playground was designed for the special needs of mentally handicapped children. Because these children often experience physical as well as mental difficulties, it is extremely important that they receive an early opportunity to develop muscles and co-ordination. Such a facility as the Parker Stewart Memorial Playground was built to provide the students of the school with an environment which would encourage exercise and confidence to try new physical activities.

At first glance, the new playground doesn't appear very different from any other recreational area for youngsters. It has the usual swings, slides and sandbox children enjoy so much. On closer inspection, however, you begin to notice its unique character. The landscaping is particularly beautiful with many trees and shrubs.

The recreational structures are intriguing. One of the largest, a slide, bridge and walkway combination, rises high above the playground on the crest of a slope. The children enjoy a sense of adventure and get a great deal of exercise by climbing up the ramp, walking across the hanging bridge and going down the slide.

VERTICAL NET USE

Another popular attraction is a sturdily constructed, vertical net. The school's students can climb up, over and through this net, which requires total body co-ordination and strengthens hand, leg and arm muscles. To teach some of the children how to walk up an incline and to overcome their fear of doing so, gentle slopes predominate throughout the area, which the children often roll down during games of tag and hide-and-seek. Also adding to the fun and exercise on the playground are tire swings, play houses and a walking pole.

In making use of the playground, the children of Winnifred Stewart School are able to overcome deficiencies of co-ordination and movement. The Parker Stewart Memorial Playground truly exemplifies the latest ideas in recreation therapy for the mentally handicapped.

To maintain such a facility, however, requires financial assistance. On Tuesday, May 2, the Winnifred Stewart School will hold its annual blitz for funds. Twenty percent of the school's budget which is not covered by government grants may be raised by private donations. On that day, canvassers will be calling on homes in Edmonton, Leduc, Beaumont, Spruce Grove and St. Albert. All donations are tax-deductible.

Regulations approved for Athabasca U

The Alberta Cabinet has passed Regulations providing for the formal establishment of Alberta's fourth university - Athabasca University.

Athabasca University is a provincial university specializing in providing post-secondary university-level educational opportunities to adult Albertans who are unable or unwilling to attend traditional institutions due to constraints of time, distance or expense.

This "distance delivery" higher education is not new. The system involves a variety of media including television, radio tapes, print and telephone.

The Chairman of the Governing Council, K.J. (Ken) Chapman said, "This move by the Province of Alberta is likely to be unique in our time. With post-secondary education costs increasing and enrollments generally decreasing, Athabasca University may be the last university to be founded in Canada in this century."

"Athabasca University is the way of the future," according to Mr. Chapman. "With our open-end admissions policy, any Albertan over 18 years of age can attempt, enjoy and complete their degree without quitting their jobs, uprooting their family or fitting into the timetable of the traditional institutions."

BOARD RESTRUCTURED

"This unicameral structure is an experiment," said Mr. Chapman. "Our University Council is composed of public, professional, employee and student members who are expected to view their council role from a 'for the good of the University' perspective; they are not a management or labour representative but rather people with a unique awareness of Athabasca and therefore have a contribution to make to Athabasca's policy, direction and future."

"There are few precedents for this form of university governance. It is part of Athabasca's role in the academic community to research and study the issue of university governance," said Mr. Chapman.

As our population gets older, as economic constraints become more severe and as opportunities depend more and more on university education, Athabasca will quite possibly emerge as the norm and no longer be as unique as it is in its first days.

Rumblings of crack of doom in love-strife movie

NIGHT FULL OF RAIN
GARNEAU, EDMONTON
By Jim McIntyre

There was more to this movie than the desultory and close to on the rocks marriage of Italian journalist Paulo, played by Giancarlo Giannini and his American wife Lizzy, showing up as Candice Bergen no less.

The full title of the show is The End of the World In Our Usual Bed in a Night Full of Rain.

While the tussle of Lizzy and Paulo occupies much of the film, Lizzy having constant flash backs to her more extrovert life in San Francisco, and Paulo's attempts to Italianise her, there are some strange allusions in the film. These are disturbing.

Lina Wertmuller's movie was made last year against the backcloth of an Italian society falling into the clutches of Euro-communism, rattled with earthquakes and virtually bankrupt.

Witness one of the segments of the film. We watch an Italian religious procession accompanied by the strange gallumphing brass band that only Italians can produce. Then an extraordinarily exquisite carving of the life-size crucified Christ falls from the cross amidst the jostling of the light-hearted crowd. This beneath the Red Flag and the Hammer and Sickle flying from a nearby balcony window.

This scene provides the background for the coming together of Paulo and Lizzy and the couple move off to her eventual seduction in an ancient monastery. Love takes place beside the skeletal remains of some old crone, reminiscent of Romeo and Juliet.

All the while it seems to be raining and Italy is crumbling under some advance pre-end of the era decay. That is one of the triumphs of this film which will come and go as many others do with hardly any acclaim.

Does the End of the World come into the show? It doesn't, even though a persistent electrical storm booms eerily nearer the couple's usual bed. But there are uneasy references to "This is 77 and not 68."

A Dies Irae theme (Day of Wrath) intrudes into the later rainy stages as the couple's marriage founders irremediably. This theme ends as the dominant one in mock Gregorian chant backed by a Dave Brubeck like jazz quartet.

It's still raining, beating down on a statue of St. Peter.

You don't feel much like getting up from your seat.

Venturing out to your car, the world is still there, but after this show, you wonder for just how much longer.

Romantic fry comedy is Northern Light wind-up

In relief and celebration that Spring has finally arrived in Edmonton, Northern Light Theatre presents Christopher Fry's A Phoenix Too Frequent at lunch hour and weekend evening performances, May 11 through June 4 in the Art Gallery Theatre. Seeing A Phoenix Too Frequent could this year replace dancing around the maypole or dodging potholes as Edmonton's favourite Spring rite.

A Phoenix Too Frequent is a sprightly romantic comedy about a young Roman soldier and a young widow who discover that love at first sight is the most natural thing in the world. Dynamene has sworn a vow to join her husband in Hades by alternately starving and weeping herself to death. She is accompanied by her maid, Doto, who after three days without food is just too hungry to keep her mind on starving. Enter in armour Tegeus, a shy but very corporeal Corporal, and exit Dynamene's vow. For Love, like the mythical phoenix, rises from the ashes and takes flight.

A Phoenix Too Frequent tops off a most successful season for Northern Light Theatre, and the occasion is marked by the appearances of three of the company's most popular performers - Angela Gann as Doto, Merrilyn Gann as Dynamene, and Allan Lysell as Tegeus. Director C. Holte Davidson is also well-known to Northern Light audiences. Stage Manager is Pam Chappell and design is by Northern Light's newly-appointed Resident Designer Allan Stichbury.

Northern Light returns to its regular one-act format for A Phoenix Too Frequent, with performances on Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 12:10 p.m., Thursdays and Fridays at 12:10 and 1:30 p.m., Saturdays at 7:30 and 9 p.m., and Sundays at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at all Bay Outlets (ph. 424-0121), the Hub Mall (ph. 432-5145), and the Northern Light Theatre Box Office (ph. 429-3110). Tickets are also on sale at the door.

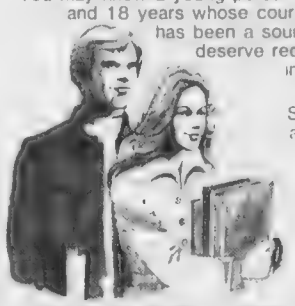

A TREASURE IN DISGUISE
The leaky boat partially submerged in Grandin Pond (Drive-in Pond?) is probably due for a rescue attempt by the children who enjoy the area in all seasons.

Local library gives tips on story telling

This week's guest on Inside Story is Anna Andersen, storyteller extraordinaire. Anne discusses the role of parents as storytellers; stressing that you don't have to be a professional actor to tell your children stories. Learn how to spend time with your kids and like it on Cable 5 at 7 p.m.

On May 3 at 7 p.m., a group of girls from Sir George Simpson tell stories through the medium of puppetry. These girls, from the Teens and Tots class taught by Pat Rodgers, perform four different puppet shows including favorites such as Cinderella and the Three Little Pigs. Don't miss these great shows on Cable 5.

New books at The St. Albert Public Library

By Pat Waterton

Build Your Own Playground, by Jeremy Joan Hewes. Of immediate practical value and interest to parents, community groups, educators and designers, this book draws upon the work of designer and teacher Jay Beckwith, who has helped develop more than 50 community and school playgrounds in California. Special attention is payed to play theory, environmental planning, leadership, and safety. Through text, drawing, and photographs the reader is shown how to plan and build a creative, innovative playground with volunteer labor and amateur skills.

Kitchens and Bathrooms, by the editors of Time-Life Books. Here is another volume in the popular Time-Life Home Repair and Improvement series. There is information and inspiration in this clearly written and well illustrated guide to remodelling and designing kitchens and bathrooms, the most used and useful household space. Topics covered include walls and floors, carpentry, ventilation and plumbing.

The Mythology of Middle-Earth by Ruth S. Noel. Tolkien enthusiasts will welcome this study which relates Tolkien's works to the mythic themes on which they are based. Tolkien's great myth of Middle-Earth is compared to historic myths that have evolved in many cultures. Of special usefulness is a glossary to help readers in tracing the sources of Tolkien's creations.

Sicilian Carousel by Lawrence Durrell. An entertaining and instructional account of Durrell's experiences as a member of a tour group whose focus was Sicily. The book includes details of Sicilian history, geography and culture, and much consideration of Mediterranean civilization. Several of the author's poems are published here for the first time.

Devon and Cornwall by Denys Kay-Robinson. A useful guide for the prospective tourist, and a wealth of information for the armchair traveller. Road maps, geological maps, town plans and many photographs complement chapters on history, geography and culture.

The Tennis Catalog, by Moira Duggan. Subtitled "The Complete Guide to the Tennis Marketplace," this book aims to provide complete, accurate information about all that is currently available in the line of tennis equipment, tennis activities, and tennis-related products.

Latest hits planned for Theatre 3 season

Artistic Director Keith Digby, has announced his selections for Theatre 3's 1978-79 season. Says Digby, "Theatre 3's new season is brand new--Edmonton will no longer be waiting five years to see the best current works from Broadway and the West End."

Included in the line-up of nine plays, announced Mr. Digby, is last year's Broadway success--the Tony Award winner as the season's best play, and Pulitzer Prize winner for 1977 - The Shadow Box by Michael Cristofer.

Along with The Shadow Box is the 1976 Tony Award winner, Streamers. David Rabe's controversial drama about a psychopathic killer in a group of soldiers awaiting dispatch to Viet Nam.

Other titles being considered by Digby: Ned & Jack by Sheldon Rosen, chosen by Stratford as their 1978 Canadian selection; One Night Stand by Carol Bolt, a sixteen week hit at Tarragon Theatre and now a made-for-TV movie; Dusa, Fish, Stas, Vi by Pamela Gens, London Critics' most promising playwright of 1976; Frankenstein from the highly successful Nowlen and Learning collaboration; and Seasons, a brand new musical by Rick Fox, Tom Kerr, and Susan Wright. Edmonton's first professional production of a Simon Gray play will be Theatre 3's planned production of Butley; and The Promise by Alexi Arbuzov, a tender and enduring Russian drama, will be given its first professional production in the Edmonton area.

Also new from Theatre 3 will be a flexible subscription offer -- the Six-Pak -- which allows the subscriber to book, for each play, the performance of his choice. Special discount Six-Pak subscriptions are on sale at Theatre 3 during the run of The Guardsman which continues until April 29. Phone 426-6870 for reservations.

Sculpture exhibition at SUB gallery

There will be an exhibition of sculptures and drawings by a University of Alberta M.V.A student, Isla Burns, in the Students' Union Art Gallery. The dates for this exhibition are Friday, April 21 to May 2, 1978. Opening night will be held April 21. Gallery hours are 12 noon to 6 p.m. weekdays and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Isla Burns was born in Calcutta in 1952. She attended the Edinburgh College of Art in Scotland as a young girl and later moved to Canada (Alberta) in 1970. Isla graduated from the Alberta College of Art in Calgary with an honourable mention an a Diploma in Sculpture. She describes her graduate work in the U. of A. Masters of Visual Arts program as "sharpening my ability to see." During 1977, Isla received the Beta Sigma Phi award in Art and Design.

"Waiting for the Parade" held over till April 30th

Northern Light Theatre has added four extra performances to the run of Waiting For the Parade, the hit production currently onstage at the Art Gallery Theatre. Tickets are now available for 12:10 p.m. performances on Thursday, April 27 and Friday, April 28, and 7:30 p.m. performances on Saturday, April 29 and Sunday, April 30.

"Producing in the full length format was a real experiment for us," says Northern Light General Manager Allan Lysell. "We're very pleased that it's proven such a success, and that this fine Albertan play has been so warmly received."

Subtitled "Faces of Women in War," Waiting for the Parade is a funny and deeply moving play about five Calgary women thrown together in 1939 by a war thousands of miles away. The cast of five women includes Kathie Ball, Joan Boyd, Angela Gann, Merrilyn Gann, and Mickey Macdonald. Direction is by Scott Swan, with set and lighting design by George Dexter. Music Director is Angela Gann and stage manager is Pam Chappell.

Tickets for the hold-over performances are available at all Bay outlets (ph. 424-0121), the Hub Mall (ph. 432-5145), and the Northern Light Theatre Box Office (ph. 429-3110). Tickets are also on sale at the door as available.

Waiting For The Parade is the fourth Northern Light production to be held over this season.

Maertz appointed to Citadel post

Peter Macdonnell, president of the Citadel Theatre Board of Directors, announced today the appointment of Mr. Randy Maertz as associate director of the Citadel to be effective June 1, 1978. Mr. Maertz will assist the artistic director, Mr. Peter Coe, during the 1978-79 season.

Mr. Maertz, 26, is a native-born Albertan and has just completed a two-year tenure as associate artistic director/production manager with Theatre 3, where he directed most recently Canadian Gothic, American Modern, the critically-acclaimed Play Strindberg, and Songs For Believers, Playwrights Workshop. He is also an accomplished stage designer and this past year designed the set for Theatre 3's A Taste of Honey, and for the Citadel's Lunchtime presentations of The Stronger and Solange. He was previously assistant artistic director-stage manager for Theatre 3 during its 1975-76 season.

Mr. Maertz received his M.F.A. in directing and design from the University of Texas at Austin, a B.F.A. from the University of Alberta, and has acted in Toronto and Edmonton and studied in the Citadel Theatre's acting workshop program.

The critics have said: "...Maertz directs well ..." Austin Statesman; "... Mr. Maertz is apparently a high-roller -- willing to risk all on pulling diamonds out of sewers. If so, he is and does ..." Play Strindberg, Theatre 3 -- Barry Harris, St John's Edmonton Report; "... n the hands of director Randy Maertz, it becomes one of those rare, violent works that makes us care about the characters..." The Collected Works of Billy the Kid, Theatre 3 -- Michael Ondaatje, CBC; "... Director Randy Maertz has staged The Broken Globe neatly and economically, without sacrificing emotional tension ... The Broken Globe, Theatre 3 -- Jamie Portman, Southam News Service.

Mr. Maertz said today, "I am delighted that I'll be working with Mr. Peter Coe at the Citadel Theatre during the next season. It will be one of the most exciting and adventurous offerings of plays the Citadel has ever attempted for Edmonton audiences. My contribution to the season will be to instill youth, vitality and excitement, and to create a theatre that is vigorously entertaining."

Randy Maertz is married to actress Susan Andre, who is presently appearing at the Shaw Festival.

SUBSCRIBERS ! !

The distribution of our newspaper is handled in three ways: on newsstands, through the mail, and by our team of carriers.

The vast majority of our readers prefer receiving the Gazette from our carriers, and it is their job to ensure that you get the Gazette as early as possible every Wednesday, whatever the weather.

Lately, the most difficult part of the carriers job has been collecting from customers. People, now are more on the go, and therefore more difficult to catch at home.

We shouldn't overlook the problems caused by holidays and moving. It is difficult to remember money owed to a carrier.

For greater convenience to all, we are hoping that our readers will take this opportunity to subscribe to the Gazette on a yearly basis.

You won't have to worry about having change on hand, or the carrier bothering you at inopportune moments. The carrier will save time working his or her route, therefore affording them more time with their friends, family and personal activities. The carrier will still receive full creditation for the delivery (.07¢ per paper delivered). If you are moving or taking holidays, just give us a call, and the necessary adjustments will be made(subscription extension, transfer, etc.).

If you move away, you can keep up on local news through the mail by having your paper follow you to your new address.

Simply fill in the coupon below and mail it to the Gazette, or drop by our office at 31 Perron Street

CWL reactivated in St. Albert

After a three year hiatus, the Catholic Women's League of St. Albert is back in action. A CWL organizational meeting was held Tuesday, April 18 in St. Albert Parish Church where 50 women gathered to reactivate the league. Five Diocesan representatives were on hand to assist in organizing the council and electing the executive.

Diocesan President, Kay Charest; Communications and Public Relations Convenor, Mitzi Crowe and Organization Convenor, Anna Laskosky made a presentation of the aims and purpose of the CWL whose motto is "To Serve God and Canada." They were exuberant about the interest and enthusiasm shown by the group present.

The newly elected executive is as follows: President, Mary Ellen Rajotte; 1st Vice President, Ena Thereux, 2nd Vice President, Theresa Clark; 3rd Vice President, Jeanne Boutin; Secretary, Jo Bremault, Treasurer, Doris Holth.

The May meeting will be held in the Grandin Room of the Church on May 2 at 8 p.m. and a cordial invitation is extended to all women interested in joining the league.

News from the Lioness Club

By Pat Hauptman, President

The Lady Lions Club was organized in 1965 with the late Dr. Cuts fondly known as "Den Mother."

Monthly meetings are held (supper meetings or dessert meetings) at member's homes. Meetings feature guest speakers, craft demonstrations or just plain business.

The Sweetheart Ball is the main fund raising event of the year. In the past the proceeds went to Camp He Ho Ha; many handicapped children from the area enjoyed a summer camp as a result of this effort.

Lady Lion members assist with the "spring clean-up" at Lions Park. They also helped out at the Rodeo breakfast and Blood Donor Clinic.

Last November the club sponsored the "Lady Beware" program, hopefully a valuable contribution to local needs.

An annual social event is the wine and cheese party in September which brings the members together after the summer and extends a special welcome to new members. A "Mini Auction" is held which adds to the profits of the club treasury.

Plans for 1978 are to donate 50 percent of the club's earnings to Camp He Ho Ha, 40 percent to Senior Citizens programs and to retain 10 percent as an emergency fund to assist a special need as it might arise.

In 1977 the Lady Lions (sponsored by the St. Albert Lions Supper Club) received their charter from Lions' International. They are now part of this great service organization and are known as the Lioness Club of St. Albert.

OVER SHE GOES

If they're not jumping over them the kids are crawling through the tire maze at Lions Park. Such simple, durable structures are perennial favourites, something like the grocery boxes in the rumpus room which can be more fun than the store–bought toys.

Potatoes enhanced by clay baking

How can you glamorize the ordinary potato so it becomes a mouth-watering, eye-appealing food? Bake it in a clay pot, that's how!

Although standard folklore links the potato with the Irish, it actually originated in South America, specifically in Peru and Bolivia, and was discovered by Europeans in the 16th Century. At first, the green berries of the plant were considered to be poisonous so the potato was cultivated solely as an ornament.

Fredrich the Great, King of Prussia, was the first to import the plant into Europe. Since no one knew how to prepare the tuber, it was ignored for many years. The person who first thought of peeling potatoes and throwing them into a pot of salted water or wrapping them in mud and cooking them in the hot ashes of a fire is one of history's long - last innovators but generations of hungry people owe him more than a vote of thanks.

Potatoes today are one of our most nourishing staples of diet. They are rich in carbohydrates and minerals. Their starch is easy to digest. Potatoes contain protein, vitamin C and B1, and fewer calories than generally thought. A quarter-pound of potatoes has 85 calories, while the same weight of apples has 50.

Since potatoes have been around as long, are nourishing and so much a staple of the Canadian diet, one would think that cooks would as a matter of routine use countless ways to make them deliciously different in taste and appearance. Not so, apparently, the most popular -- and admittedly easiest-way in the Canadian kitchen is to peel them, pop them in the pot and boil them.

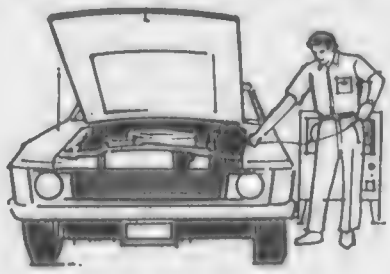

However, potatoes prepared this way lost a lot of their taste and nourishment, the peel helps retain flavor, vitamins and nutrients but some is lost in the boiling. Fortunately it is possible to have all advantages of boiling with an out-of-this-world taste simply by cooking the potatoes in a clay pot.

Clay bakers are ideal for potatoes because they don't require the use of liquids or fats. The vitamins and nutrients are not cooked away; therefore, the food is more nourishing and appealing. (Food cooked in clay bakers is perfect for persons who watch their diet because of weight or illness). The taste furthermore, is unbelievably delicious fresh and satisfying.

Modern clay pots are refined, improved versions of the ancient ones but the principle is the same. The clay baker, typified by the Romertopf, is made of extremely porous terra cotta and is soaked in water before being used. The clay absorbs the water which is released in minute particles while the food is cooking.

The released water penetrates the food and mingles with the natural juices, improving flavor and tenderness. Clay bakers can be used for almost any kind of food and can transform even the toughest meat, for example, into a dish of gourmet taste and flavor.

Are you in control of your time? Many of us complain that time passes too quickly and there is not enough hours in the day to get things done. Where does your time go?

Do you realize that out of a lifetime of 600,000 hours, 200,000 goes into sleep alone? Also, between birth and death, we spend 50,000 of our mere 400,000 conscious hours in trivial hygenic activities. Shocking, isn't it?

Would you like to gain more control of your time?

With the use of some time management skills, you will realize that time, your time, is controllable.

Here are some Time Management Tips...1. Start by evaluating your day-by-day activities. 2. Start a list of your own personal Values and Goals - Then you discover what you really want to do. 3. Select Activities which help you achieve your goals. 4. Make best use of your time by doing tasks of Top Value to you.

TIME MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP

For further information and practical experience in time management skills, why not participate in the one-day "Save Time . . for Yourself" Workshop on Monday, May 1 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. (bring own lunch) at Grandin Clubhouse. Register today by mailing $2 (cheque made payable to M.D. of Sturgeon) to Home Economist, 9601 - 100 Street, Morinville, T0G 1P0 or telephone 939-4351 for further information.

Paul Kane News

By Carolyn Seltz

The weather this past week has decidedly been that of spring. For that, thanks may be extended to Paul Kane High School.

Such was the cheerful welcome and attraction of our Spring Fling last week, the season was obligated to show itself. Tuesday night witnessed the reading of the bans in the medium of spring fashions. Despite nervous commentators, slight commencement tension among the models, and indoor temperatures ranging, it seemed from 80-0°C., we pulled off the show rather creditably, well-endowed with our annual beginner's luck. We must admit, of course, that the major force behind this success was the supplying stores. St. Albert stores such as Dori-Lynn, the Denim Den, the St. Albert Sportshop generously lent us clothes, while Ethos, Peter Wolf, Black Sheep, Miss J', and others from Edmonton also dipped into their plentious supplies of wares for us. And, of course, the interior decorators outdid themselves. Our school cafeteria was rendered unrecognizable by tableclothes, frimps, furbellows, and sporadic but gorgeous clumps of flowers. The night was enlivened too by bursts, also sporadic, of disco sound, intermingling with the easy-listening music which composed the majority of the accompaniment.

The fashions were new, nice and well-shown-off; the models did a fantastic job, and the "lodgings" were all that could be desired (except for the heat); or, to put succinctly what I have been trying to say for the past 300 words, we all had a wonderful time and we venture to hope the audience did, too. If you missed it this year, be sure to catch our Spring Fling next year ... I'll bet we will surpass even this year's performance!

- SCHOOL HALL FASHION? -

It's not everyday that the halls of a high school are graced by well dressed students as was the case during last week's fashion show at Paul Kane. The young people clockwise from left are: Shellie Fenton, 18, Kim Jacobs, 17, Karen Sinclair, 18, Penny Webber, 17, and Rod Kane, 18. Fashions in this photo were supplied by Armstrong's Mens Wear, Dori Lynn, Eaton's and Pant City.

Accent on Akins

By Allson Prowse

Mother nature, being an old fashioned sort, belongs to the old school of learning. Common sense would tell you when leaves started changing colour it was time for cod liver oil. By the same token, when the snow has melted and pussywillows are shyly coming out, it is time to get out the bottle of spring fever. Made of crocuses and birds and a shower of sunshine it is highly effective in combatting the "February drears." It lets one see clearly and boasts ones ambitious to fly with the birds. Sometimes however like cough syrup it makes one a bit sleepy.

Such was the case at Lorne Akins on Slob Day. Two different socks, an unmatched pair of shoes, and for a touch of originality, possibly a clashing shirt with a faded sweater was considered the height of fashion.

One lovely belle was attired in a pair of dirty orange flood pants (no doubt to show off her ankles) and delicately fringed by bobby socks. A small shirt was worn with a wrinkly green coat. Another "vogueish" damsel decked her feet in fiery red slippers. Christian Dior would have either fainted at the sight of us or rushed back to Paris to design some "tramp" clothes (slob is too suggestive).

The slob day disco after school was a bit of a failure. Common belief is that we were all too laden with mud to feel that energetic. The proceeds of the dance will go to the prom fund.

April 22 was our work weekend for the prom. Only minor disasters occurred such as not knowing how to iron when you had two hours worth of work ahead of you, a raking in a yard that held a dog. Others of us shared mutual problems of housewives across Canada. Window washing wasn't bad until you had to fit all the pieces back together. In other cases people got to lean out cars which had never seen a vacuum and whose owners had forsaken them in the back garden. However despite that $350 was made. The only bad results lay in the fact that our mothers have decided to harness our working abilities to their unpayed whips.

Preparations for the prom are slowly underway. The only things which are definitely decided on are our decoration colours and style of dress.

The track club has also been subjected to a large measure of spring fever. Every morning at 7:30 individuals are groggily making their way to the track, while with clothes awry, we are all characteristically red in the face and slightly short of breath.

However what can you expect at such an early hour? Mother nature's miracles don't carry that far.

St. Albert High Reports

By Monica Tap

Breathe a sigh of relief; mid-terms are over! But ... (there's always a catch) - report cards are on their way. Tomorrow, Thursday, April 27, is "doomsday" in the eyes of many students, as that is the day they discover - sometimes to their horror - how they scored on their exams.

I must say that we have reason to be proud of S.A.H.S.'s athletic abilities in the Provincial gymnastics competition. We did well with Sue Zielinski taking second on the balance beam and fourth on floor exercise. Joanne Chelkowski walked away with a first for uneven parallel bars while Wendy Routhier came off with two big threes - one in floor exercise and the other in vaulting. Janice Kelly got third on the unevens, and another third on the balance beam. In badminton, Terry Smith smashed her way up to a big number one!

On Monday, April 25, we were lucky to have the Catalyst Theatre present their improvisation, "What's Up, Chuck" to us. They work in association with AADAC and this improvisation dealt with the problem of alcoholism. There was a question period afterward which got people thinking and expressing their views and feelings. All in all, it was a fantastic experience - not to mention time off from some boring classes!!

The Bahá'í Faith Unifies Mankind

The word "religion" comes from the Latin, "religare' which means to join or connect. If religion is not a cause of unity, it is better not to have it.

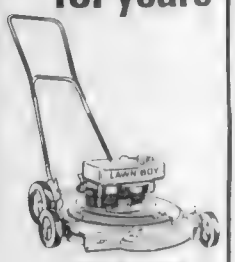

Krishna, Moses, Buddha, Zoroaster, Jesus, Muhammed, the Bab, and Baha'u'llah all come from the same Divine Source of inspiration and all were Promoters of the progress of mankind. If their teachings differ, it is because mankind during their ministries, was at different stages in the development of its respective needs and receptivity, because All taught from a Divine Plan for the eventual unification of all mankind

Baha'u'llah came to the world when mankind found itself in a particular dilemma: unite or perish. He came with the plan for the realization of that union on a universal scale.

Vital Grandin places 2nd in Klondike relays

For the second year in a row, Vital Grandin's Grade five and six track team took the runner's up title at the fifth annual Klondike Relay held last Friday at the Kinsmen Fieldhouse.

The Elementary division of the Klondike Relays involved about 700 students this year representing 40 schools from Edmonton, Sherwood Park, St. Albert and surrounding districts.

The Vital Grandin Team, made up of 48 grade five and six boys and girls, were extremely well prepared in all their events but couldn't beat out Braemar of Edmonton who won the overall title with 90 points unofficially. Vital Grandin finished second with 78 points, with St. Boniface of Edmonton third with 32 points, St. Edmonds and Millshaven with 30 points.

The Klondike Relays, run by Kel Knight of the Edmonton Strikers Track Club, had its biggest turn out ever this year. Friday nights 700 elementary competitors were followed Saturday by over 1000 Junior High competitors. High school races will be held next Saturday at the Fieldhouse.

At Saturday's junior high meet, Vital Grandin's grade seven team did extremely well and won quite a few ribbons.

Keen competition at zone badminton finals

By R. Gouchey

The high school provincial badminton finals will be played in Red Deer Saturday of this week and only three Paul Kane players have qualified to make the trip. Competition at the Zone level proved to be very strong. Although most of Paul Kane's players performed well, it was not good enough.

Kevin Sage played exceedingly well for the second consecutive tournament. Again he showed consistent strength, not dropping a single game while accumulating nine victories.

The combination of Rick Webber and Thora Eyford also qualified to represent the North Central Zone at the Provincials with a creditable performance at Westlock.

The team trophy, awarded to the school with the best record in preliminary games was won by Parkland School of Edson. They accumulated 123 points. Paul Kane placed second with 21.

Voice of V.J.M.

By Heather Smith and Cheryl Carlou

On April 14 we had Western Days and it was a real barn-burner due to the great participation. It was a real whoop-de-doo because besides having cowpokes we had a few injuns. One was Karen Phillips who was best dressed. Her costume was original and colorful. The class who won the banner was 8H. They won the banner because of their great and enthusiastic participation. But Western Days would not have been so without everyone in the school enthused. Thanks for your participation V.J.M.

Another exciting event coming our way that should be a lot of fun is T-shirt day. This will also require a lot of participation which we hope will be shown. There will be a prize for the most original. There will be a colorful show with many different types and kinds of T-shirts.

Klondike Relays were a great success for all who were involved. We are very pleased with the success of V.J.M. since we came in second out of all the schools in Edmonton. We have a promising track year ahead for V.J.M., with many excellent runners.

We are also pleased with the Badminton results. Our V.J.M. teams won the city championship. Great going Guys and Gals.

All classes will be starting softball league during noon hour, competition will be between homerooms. It should be of enjoyment to all concerned. Let's hope we get a lot of participation from the classes.

Stop! Thief! Somehow, mysteriously, the outside basketball hoops were found missing from the backboards last Thursday. To be frank they were ripped-off. This is quite an embarrassing situation. If anyone knows of the whereabouts please contact the school.

P.S. There is a reward!

Bye for now and keep your eyes peeled.

Scenes from Simpson

By Lynn Kutzner and Tracy Webster

For the past few weeks the students of Simpson have been using their well-earned time to put together the ninth consecutive variety night. This year's performance is entitled "If Not For Music." The evening will give you an opportunity to relive your school days - whether you're 15 or 50, old memories may come back. Performers from all grades, under the supervision of Mrs. S. Jensen, will put on the story of music.

All performances begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 25th's performance is for students only, although parents are welcome to attend. Wednesday, April 26th's performance is adult's night and Thursday, April 27 is open to all ages and children under 10, accompanied by an adult will be admitted free. Tickets can be purchased at the office or from performers.

Prices are as follows: Adults - $1.50 all performances; Students - $1 on Tuesday; $1.50 Wednesday and Thursday; Senior Citizens - 75¢ all performances.

Better hurry - tonight and Thursday's are the only two performances left.

Sometime ago we asked for your assistance in rounding up a couple of chesterfields for the library and the response was great. Unfortunately, the ones we now have look like mass destruction has hit. If you have a chesterfield you own and want to disown please call 459-4456. It is in dire need!

East Side Teens

By Mary-Jo

Last Friday night East Side Teens ventured to Mill Woods to put on a Disco.

Once again due to Brian's expertise navigation we were lost in Mill Woods.

After checking out the local restaurant, Brian, Lisa, Joss and Mary-Jo decided to put in a special guest appearance at the dance.

We still haven't heard anything from the RCMP. If we promise to take it easy on you guys, will you play us, PLEASE.

East Side really travelled this week. Monday night we ended up at a place called Y.D.C. where it is or how we go here we still have no idea. Thanks to Bruce's navigation we were totally confused. Due to the curiosity of the guy players, they entered the girls change room, totally disappointed to find it empty.

A few people decided to play basketball and pick on the spectators. Brian couldn't stand to only be the referee he had to get right in the middle of the game, literally.

When the game got a little boring we had a conversation with somebody from Y.D.C. about peanut butter.

To the disappointment of Y.D.C. we won our game 9 to 5. On the way home we toured the city due to somebody's expert navigation, (right Bruce).

Afterwards we raided Red Onion for a victory celebration, at the expense of Bill and Brian.

Hideout Column

By Albert Zylstra

This past week at the Hideout has been a busy one. We have finally gotten all the fixtures and new equipment down there and we'll be taking on all the new kids we can. It will offer shuffleboard, more pool, more foosball, T.V. pong, hot food and variety of indoor games.

It's exciting to see all the new equipment down there and we hope the teens of St. Albert will appreciate and enjoy it all.

This last weekend, another fun and successful disco was held at the Hideout. Thanks to Mrs. De Champlain for her usual excellent performance, almost all the Teen Executive for keeping everyone including themselves under control and all the teen-aiders for being such good supervisors, but cowards when it came to working coat check.

This upcoming weekend regular operations will continue but with all our new equipment. So come on out and have a good time.

Waldons to hold musical service

"Singing our Faith" with the Waldons - a most unusual evening to be held in St. Albert United Church on Sunday, April 30 at 7 o'clock - should appeal to all lovers of music, especially as it applies to the expression of faith and worship. Rev. Don Waldon and his wife Margaret, both serve at St. Paul's United Church, Edmonton, where he is minister and she is Christian Development Assistant. Both sing, and Margaret is an accomplished organist and pianist. Between them, they have developed a unique program designed to encourage people everywhere to join in celebrating their faith by means of music.

Realizing that many members of congregations cherish the old, traditional music of the church, part of their program is designed to delight them, while others who enjoy the more recent additions to the musical repertoire will find much to appreciate. Who knows, some of the tradition-lovers will find their understanding and liking for the modern will be treatly enhanced. Truly, there is something for everyone in this field.

While the evening certainly will provide much in the way of entertainment its primary purpose is to develop participation by everyone in the musical part of worship, literally "Singing Our Faith."

Rev. Don Waldon originally comes from Winnipeg, but was educated in the Maritimes. Margaret came from Fredericton, N.B. Prior to coming to St. Paul's they served at Westville, Nova Scotia. They come from a long tradition of service in the church. Margaret's grandfather was a minister of the Methodist Church in Canada, while Don's father was a medical doctor who spent almost his entire working life in the United Church Home Mission field. Obviously, they are carrying on the family code of service. They delighted the members of Alberta Conference at their last session, and we know they will delight the people of St. Albert at th United Church on Sunda night. Don't miss it

What would today's kids ask Jesus?

It was a different kind of worship service. Children seated on stage wondering what it would have been like to have Jesus for a teacher, and wishing they had been among those lucky kids who actually got to SEE Him. And the answers came back in fresh new songs that appeal to young and the not-so-young hearts.

This was the exciting experience of worshippers at the St. Albert Lutheran Church on Sunday morning, April 16, when the 24 children in the Junior Choir presented a worship musical entitled They All Sang Jesus.

Due to the enthusiastic response the choir will present the musical service again on May 7 at 7:30 in the evening, at which time all interested families in St. Albert are invited to attend.

Following the opening hymn and readings from the scriptures, the 24-member choir comprised of children from 7 - 13 years took over, under the direction of Opal Haaland and accompanied by Helen Clark at the piano and Neil Van Dyk, a teen-ager, on the bass guitar.

To the question "have you ever wondered why we have butterflies, puppies and all those other good things," the answer comes back in song ... God Made These For Us To Love. And haven't you wondered what a 'soul' is. This question and many others that kids might have asked Jesus are answered in exciting, different songs

The worship musical is developed to be as spontaneous as possible as the children make comments or ask questions on the kinds of things they wonder about, and the songs reply to them

Bring your children to enjoy this different experience at the Lutheran Church on the evening of May 7

WOULD YOU LIKE TO LIVE FOREVER?
JESUS OFFERS THIS POSSIBILITY IN HIMSELF. NOTE THE SIMPLE TERMS UPON WHICH IT IS BASED

JOHN XI

17. So when Jesus arrived, He found that he (Lazarus) had already been in the tomb four days.

18. Bethany was near Jerusalem, only about two miles away.

19. And a considerable number of the Jews had gone out to see Martha and Mary to console them concerning their brother.

20. When Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went to meet Him, while Mary remained sitting in the house.

21. Martha then said to Jesus, Master, if You had been here, my brother would not have died.

22. And even now I know that whatever You ask from God He will grant it to You.

23. Jesus said to her, Your brother shall rise again.

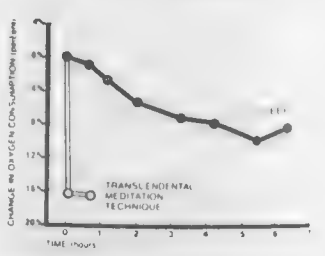

24. Martha replied, I know that he will rise again at the resurrection in the last day.

25. Jesus said to her, I am (Myself) the Resurrection and the Life. Whoever believes in - adheres to, trusts in and relies on - Me, although he may die, yet he shall live.

26. And whoever continues to live and believes - has faith in, cleaves to and relies - on Me shall never (actually,) die at all. Do you believe this?

27. She said to Him, Yes, Lord, I have believed - I do believe that You are the Messiah, the Anointed One, the Son of God, (even He) Who was to come into the world. (It is for Your coming that the world has waited).

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

Inspector's Report

Date: October 12, 1977 — Municipality Municipal District of Sturgeon No. 90 — File No. SM50

The following report is submitted as the result of an inspection of the books, records and administrative procedures of the Municipal District of Sturgeon No. 90 conducted by the undersigned October 12, 1977.

Minutes are well prepared and adequately describe business transacted and decisions made by council on behalf of the Municipal District.

It is the opinion of the writers that many decisions are beingmade at the committee meeting level rather then at regular or special meetings of council.

A difference of opinion exists between the writers and the secretary treasurer of the Municipal District as to what is classed as a regular meeting and what is classed as a committee meeting.

At the Organizational Meeting of October 21, 1976 a schedule of meetings was adopted as follows

1. Council meetings - Thursday after the second Tuesday each month.
2. Development meetings - Last Thursday of every month
3. Public Works Committee - Thursday prior to council meetings.
4. Executive and Development Committee Meeting - Monday prior to the Development meeting.
5. Agriculture Service Board - First Tuesday every month.
6. Sturgeon Recreation Regional Council - On call by chairman.

An Executive and Development Committee consisting of three members of council was also appointed at that meeting.

The Development Committee Meeting dates were set for the last Thursday of each month with the minutes recorded (on file as minutes of council meetings (Development and Sub-Division). Again the writers opinion would be that these meetings are in fact, committee meetings and should only be for the discussion of any business pertaining to Development and Sub-Division. Recommendation would come from these meetings to the council for their acceptance or refusal.

It was noted that the minutes of the Development and Sub-Division meetings contained

a. bylaw readings
b. setting of salaries (assessor)
c. driver training programs
d. fire agreements etc

Items which should be decided at a regular or special meeting of council and not at the committee level. There is the possibility that a bylaw may be questioned and the readings found improper due to the fact they were passed at committee level. This may result in having the bylaw quashed and cause serious problems for the Municipal District.

The whole point of the above is, if council is holding a council meeting, then call it a council meeting and record it as such.

The August 18, 1977 minutes had not been confirmed by council and September 8 minutes were not signed by the Reeve. Councillors are abstaining from voting on items in which they may have an interest, however the way in which this is recorded should be revised. Prior to the discussion and vote on any item as above mentioned, the councilor should declare his interest and have same recorded at that time

On March 31, 1977 a resolution was passed to the effect that the Reeve and Superintendent of Public Works be authorized to take all roads within the Municipal District of Sturgeon at their discretion. At the same meeting a resolution was passed stating that all gravelled roads in the Municipal District be banned at the discretion of the councilor for the area, and the Superintendent of Public Works

Section 14 subsection (1) (2) (3) of the Highway Traffic Act, 1975 specifies to whom this authority may be delegated

Bylaws examined indicated the following

1. Bylaws 264 and 265 readings part of committee meetings.
2. Bylaw 272 setting 1977 mill rates states full mill rate to be levied against all properties - makes no differential for non-residential or residential properties.
3. The vote on the resolution for giving three readings to a bylaw should be recorded as being "carried" or "lost." The resolution authorizing to proceed with third reading of a bylaw at one meeting must be "carried unanimously."

ASSESSMENT AND TAX ROLL

The combined roll was well ensured within the guidelines of the governing statutes.

Tax collections for 1976 were fairly good in that 88.4% of the current levy was collected. Tax recovery proceedings were found in order in accordance with the respective Act.

Cash records were posted to date with cash on hand and petty cash fund verified correct. Bank balances reconciled September 30, 1977 totaled $1,029,838.36 including $94,000.00 in Government of Canada Bonds

FINANCIAL

The Municipal District's financial position is reasonably stable. A considerable surplus was recorded in 1976 due to expenditures being kept within their budgeted allotments

On the date of inspection there were no outstanding loans and all requisitions were paid to a current position.

GENERAL

The overall administration of the municipality is basically good.

Mr. Boddez has recently been appointed to the position of secretary treasurer and it is the opinion of the writers that given sufficient time to familiarize himself with the new and additional duties will become quite proficient in his position.

F. Colvin, Senior Municipal Inspector.
N. S. Mike, Municipal Inspector.

Notice To Ratepayers

The Municipal District of Sturgeon will not hold an annual meeting this year.

Due to the land transfer from the County of Thorhild, which to date has not as yet been finalized, the Financial Statement could not be published within the required time. Consequently due to the delay, requirement under the Municipal Government Act for holding an annual meeting could not be complied with. Copies of the complete financial statement can be obtained by personally attending the Municipal District of Sturgeon office.

The Reeve, Councillors and staff wish to apologize for any inconvenience that may be caused.

Auditor's Report

To the Members of Council of
The Municipal District of Sturgeon No. 90

We have examined the balance sheets of the general operating fund, general capital fund and water capital fund of the Municipal District of Sturgeon No. 90 as at December 31, 1977, and the following financial statements for the year then ended

Statement of Surplus - General Operating Fund
Statement of Equity in Fixed Assets - General Capital Fund
Statement of Revenue and Expenditure - General Operating Fund
Statement of Revenue and Expenditure - Water Operating Fund

Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances

As explained in Note 2, a number of matters are under negotiation with respect to the transfer of assessment from the County of Thorhild No. 7 to the Municipal District of Sturgeon No. 90 Although the Municipality has made provision for certain amounts expected to be received as a result of these negotiations, no information is available at this date as to the portion of the account receivable and other amounts which may ultimately be collected

In our opinion, subject to the determination of the amounts to be ultimately collected as a result of these negotiations, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Municipality as at December 31, 1977 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, as they apply to Alberta Municipalities, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 1977

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Municipality follows accounting practices recommended by the Government of Alberta - Department of Municipal Affairs:

Fixed assets

Unless acquired through the proceeds of capital financing, fixed asset additions are recorded as expenditures in the operating fund in the year purchased. Depreciation is recorded in the water capital fund. Fixed assets acquired through capital financing in amounts equal to the debenture proceeds during the year. No depreciation is recorded on other fixed assets acquired.

Debenture debt

Debenture debt principal and interest payments are recorded as expenditures in the operating funds in the year the payments are made. Accrued interest payable is not recorded.

2. TRANSFER OF ASSESSMENT FROM THE COUNTY OF THORHILD NO. 7

Order in Council No. O.C. 910/77 authorized the transfer of over fifty percent of the total taxable assessment of the County of Thorhild No. 7 (the County) to the Municipal District of Sturgeon No. 90 (the Municipal District) effective January 1, 1977. The Municipal District is claiming also as to the amount of net assets of the County to be transferred to the Municipal District in payment for work performed by the Municipal District in the transferred area, and for surplus which has accumulated in the County prior to the transfer on behalf of ratepayers in the transferred area.

As at December 31, 1977 the Municipal District has recorded an account receivable from the County in the amount of $220,200 representing expenditures in this area for road equipment, patrolling charges, road construction and other public works expenditures between the transfer date and December 31, 1977 for which the Municipal District has received no tax revenues.

No amounts have been recorded with respect to the following matters

(a) an outstanding account of $67,500 from the County for maintenance costs incurred by the Municipal District on roads for which the County has passed a by-law authorizing payment thereof

(b) that section of the Northeast water line which is in the transferred area

(c) the amount to be paid to the Municipal District in respect of surplus accumulated in the County on behalf of ratepayers in the transferred area.

Home of the Week

STYLISH AND SIMPLE DUPLEX

Plan P8-2-152

Simple design, and very little wastage of space and materials make this plan of the week most practical.

The exterior shown uses natural wood siding, but any combination of materials can be used. The shutters illustrated here can create an excellent effect for very little extra. Special design doors, can also enhance a duplex inexpensively.

In the floo an illustrated, the ground floor is shown on the right of the plan, with the upper floor on the left. The ground level basement has a laundry room, and three unfinished rooms. Depending on local zoning by-laws this level could be developed into another suite, or use it for a family room and another bedroom for a luxury duplex.

There's a sundeck and outside stairway leading directly from the large kitchen area. The kitchen window would command a good view of children playing in the backyard, a selling point for renters with children.

The living room and bedrooms have no extra costly frills, but they have all the closet and window space expected of a modern home.

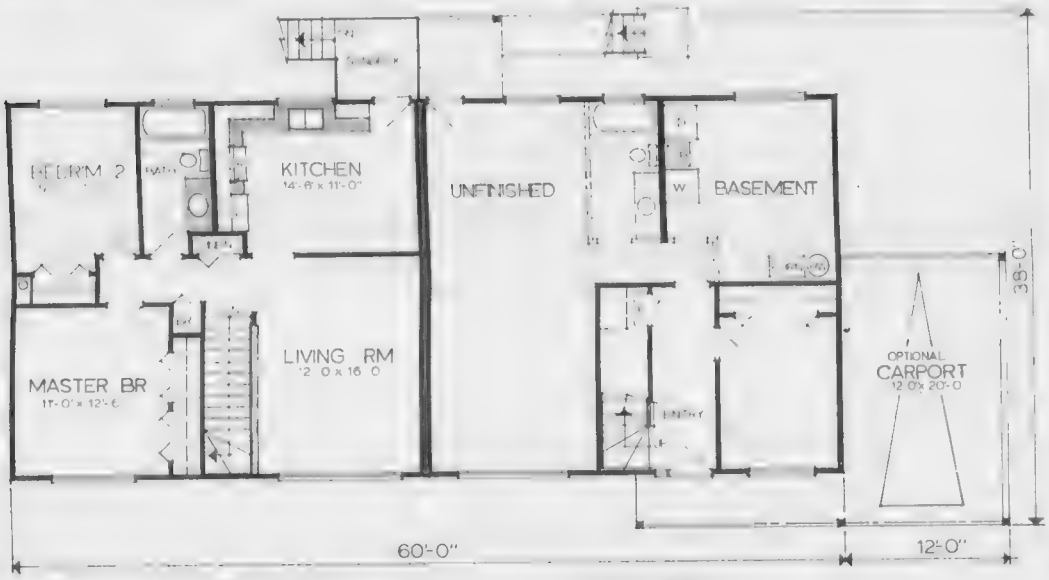

Before deciding on a duplex, it would be best to check local building regulations with regard to multiple dwelling units. It is also important to check regulations regarding front and side lot building allowances, as well as special height rules.

This plan is ideal for those wishing to build a duplex, to live in half of the building while renting out the other half for revenue. Time and again it has been proven that it's a lot easier to control a rental unit when you live next door.

All in all, this plan will provide a comfortable setting for any family either as a combination home and rental development, or as a strictly revenue property.

Plans for design No. P8-2-152 may be obtained at a cost of $75 for the first copy, with each additional copy being $10. Allow $2 to cover postage and handling.

Phelan's third period goal gives Comets league title

John Phelan's goal at 17.20 of the third period Thursday night gave St Albert Comets a 3-2 win over Sherwood Park Barons in the fourth game of a best of five series for the Alberta Major Intermediate Hockey League championship.

The series was originally a best of seven affair but was shortened to a best of five series when Sherwood Park Barons arrived home from the Western Canada Intermediate finals in Prince George and found the ice had been taken out of their arena.

Comets had earlier defeated the Barons by scores of 6-2 and 4-2, losing one game by a 4-2 margin.

Comets also defeated the Barons in the league final last year, four games to one, making this the second season in a row that St. Albert has won the league cup.

JOHN PHELAN

St. Albert also won the Intermediate "B" provincial crown for the second consecutive year, when they defeated Red Deer Border Pavers 4-3 in overtime two weeks ago.

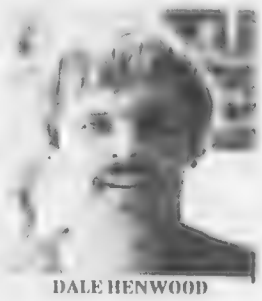

Barons took a 2-0 first-period lead on goals by Joe Tremblay and John Kleinschroth, and appeared to be on their way to evening up the series as they controlled most of the play.

Ed Leigman of the Barons went off for tripping at 7.8 of the second giving the Comets a powerplay opportunity. They made the best of it as Bob Beaulieu took a pass from Blaine Georgy and drilled a low slapshot from the point. Baron's Ed Dyck had no chance, and the Comets were on the scoreboard.

Both clubs had some excellent scoring chances in the period as referee Dick Curry handed out 11 penalties, but Dale Henwood and Dyck made some sparkling saves.

Rookie Matt Lister finished off an excellent passing play from Barry Medori and Larry Stewart to beat Dyck at 9.35 of the third period, and tie the score at 2-2.

With less than three minutes left on the clock a scramble behind the Barons net led to a loose puck coming out to Phelan who was directly in front of the goal and had no trouble banging it past Dyck for the winner.

DALE HENWOOD

Barons pulled their goaltender in the last minute of play but could not get the equalizer as Henwood came up big a couple of times.

No penalties were called in the third period as both teams stuck strictly to hockey and produced some fine action.

Ryan new Saints coach

St. Albert Saints of the Sunburst Baseball League have announced that veteran Jim Ryan has accepted the head coaching job.

Ryan, a former professional with the Old Edmonton Eskimos brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to the Saints and feels that the team will be extremely competitive. Ryan will be helped by assistant coach Ken Taylor, who was with the Fort Saskatchewan Red Sox last year.

Saints are having nightly practices at either Mission Park in St. Albert or North Edmonton.

All positions on the team are open and anyone interested in trying out for the team can call Jim at 454-5259.

JIM RYAN

Anyone interested in helping sponsor the team can also do so by getting in touch with Jim.

Play begins next week in Sturgeon Fastball League

The highly regarded Sturgeon Men's Fastball League will start its season May 3 with 14 teams taking part, the same number as last year.

One of the league's original teams, Spruce Grove Panthers have received a one-years leave of absence and their place has been filled by a team from Poundmaker Lodge, known as the Native Sons.

Spruce Grove, Devon and St. Albert are all in the process of building new fastball diamonds and some of the early games in these centres may have to be rescheduled.

The two new diamonds in Meadow View Park in St. Albert were seeded late last year, and are not expected to be ready until the middle of July, which covers just about the whole season for league play.

The Parks and Recreation department are now preparing a new diamond at Akinsdale Community Centre and all games for the three St. Albert - based teams will be played there.

The annual May 24 league tournament which has always been played in Calahoo has been switched to Stony Plain this season. All 14 member teams will take part with proceeds going towards the payment of umpire fees.

Once again there appears to be a shortage of umpires and anyone who would like to officiate a few games should contact Marc Contant at 458-1059 or Larry Mitchell at 459-4941 for further information.

The schedule for the Stony Plain tournament is as follows:

Stony Plain Playboys vs St. Albert A's - 2 p.m.

Spruce Grove K of C vs Calahoo Chiefs - 2 p.m.

L.B.H. Builders vs Alexander Braves - 4 p.m.

Poundmaker Lodge vs Spruce Grove Sounders - 4 p.m.

Stony Plain Kings vs Onoway Royals - 4 p.m.

Territorial Juniors vs Garden Valley Raiders - 6 p.m.

Enoch Tomahawks vs Devon - 6 p.m.

Comets banquet this Friday

The popular St. Albert Comets banquet and awards night will be held Friday at the Club Mocombo in St. Albert and tickets to the event are going quickly. The fun-filled evening will start at 6 p.m. with a cocktail hour followed by a smorgasbord supper.

The awards presentation will start at 8 p.m. and the "Busted Flats" will provide some excellent dance music at 9 p.m.

A number of St. Albert firms have donated some lovely door prizes.

Tickets can be purchased from any member of the Comets or at the St. Albert Sportshop.

Fastball umpires needed

The 14-team Sturgeon Men's Fastball League are in need of umpires to work Monday and Wednesday nights from May 3 to early August.

Anyone interested in making a few dollars and watching some exciting fastball is asked to contact Marc Contant at 458-1059 or Larry Mitchell at 459-4941 for further information.

Teams in the league are Stony Plain (two), Spruce Grove (two), St. Albert (three), Calahoo, Onoway, Garden Valley, Devon, Enoch, Alexander and Poundmaker Lodge.

PLAY BALL ! . . .

. . . a great delivery but the action at the plate was a little slow, or did the batter merely have a good eye for an inside pitch. The Nu-West Homes and the Sturgeon Sod Giants slugged it out to a 17-17 draw, although both sides felt they won this game played on the weekend.

Saturday is Baseball Day in St. Albert

It's that time again - Baseball Day in St. Albert. Saturday's the official opening day of the 1978 SAMBA baseball season - and the "Parade of Players" is the THING.

According to Lorne Ross, 1978 head of St. Albert Minor Baseball, the day's unusual feature calls for the entire brigade of house league minor baseball leaguers to form up at 10 a.m. Saturday morning. The player parade is expected to leave Mission Park around 10:30 a.m. with the ultimate destination the vast athletic complex at Lorne Akins on Churchill Avenue.

Although the complete make-up of the parade is still on the planning board, it will wind its way through the main stream of St. Albert spotlighting the 30-odd teams, most of which will be viewed for the first time in opening action throughout the day.

Already slated to appear for the opening ceremonies is local MP, Peter Elzinga. Invited, but as yet not confirmed, are St. Albert Mayor Ron Harvey and MLA Ernie Jamison.

Darlene Ross, SAMBA's Ladies Auxiliary president, promises a concession booth serving hot dogs and ice cold pop at popular prices.

BASEBALL CONTESTS FOR SATURDAY

Immediately following the ribbon cutting, baseball throwing, ceremonies, the following house league games will be played at the times indicated:

BANTAM DIVISION

Link Blue Jays vs Pennington Blasters - 2 p.m. Lorne Akins diamond #23; Bermont Broncs vs Big M Burger Boys - 2 p.m., Flagstone Park; Neil's Trailer Kings vs Nu-West Homers - 5 p.m., Lorne Akins diamond #23.

BEAVER DIVISION

Sportshop Cubs vs Trailer Kings - 1:30 p.m., St. Albert High field #12; Sod Busters vs The Bucket - 1:30 p.m., Lorne Akins diamond #25; Roughnecks vs Nu-West Homers - 1:30 p.m., St. Albert High diamond #11.

TEE-BALL DIVISION

Action gets underway at Langley Field with teams to be announced on Saturday.

MOSQUITO DIVISION

Eight talented teams will be seen in exhibition play only on Saturday. Regular season's play for this division is underway, beginning Monday, May 1.

MIDGET DIVISION

An exhibition game headlining St. Albert two entries in the Norwest Baseball League, the Willowbrook Saints and the new-look Cardinals is set to begin around 1:30 p.m. at Mission Park, the home field for both these squads.

There is a strong possibility the times of the above games will be moved up for an earlier starting time, depending on the weather, and opening activities.

Baseball's alive on Cable Five

KICKING OFF THURSDAY AT 7:00 P.M.

Last minute plans and an opportunity to meet the people who run the SAMBA baseball scene in St. Albert will be introduced in beautiful colour TV Thursday evening as the "Baseball Sports Scene" will be seen at 7 p.m.

Photographers place 1st and 3rd in rally

Gazette photographer and car enthusiast Al Popil is walking around with a swollen head following his win in the Edmonton Light Car Club's first annual Media Car Rally.

The event, held Friday evening, saw the media supply the navigators and the ELCC supply cars, drivers, organizers and prizes.

The start was at Shakey's Pizza in Centennial Mall with the first car out at 7:50 p.m.

The route followed, went west on highway 16 to Atim Lake road and then north and west with the final section taking the cars back to Shakeys, where war stories were swapped until results were finalized.

Three crews ended on top with identical four point penalties with the tie being broken by scoring a one minute control to the second.

Final Standings - 1st Volvo 142GL Wes Clyne (driver), Alan Popil St. Albert Gazette (navigator); 2nd Volvo 142E Brent Redford (driver), Darlene Brilliant, Edmonton Journal (navigator); 3rd Datsun 510 Steve Adams (driver), Richard Mowey, St. Albert Gazette (navigator); 4th Datsun 510 Dean Harrison (driver), Elsie Afaganis (navigator); 5th Fiat 128SL Jack Thompson (driver), Bill Stevenson (navigator); 6th Citrion Richard Hepburn (driver), Dave Gibson (navigator); 7th Erickson Datsun 510 Perry Afaganis (driver), Jim Wenger CITV (navigator); 8th Toyota Corolla SR5 Sherman Dodd (driver), Alex Coumantarakis (navigator).

Plaques were awarded to the navigators of the four top placing crews. For those of you who did not attend a good time, on some of the hills and twisty roads in the Edmonton area, was had by all.

If you feel you have missed something - fear not.

The Edmonton Light Car Club will be holding its annual Novice Rally Series starting April 28. These events are a low cost low key fun evening country tours. Three hours and 80 miles will bring you back to the finish, where you can relax and discuss any problems with the organizers.

The next rally in the ELCC's Novice Rally Series goes this Friday. Registration time is 6 p.m. with the start at 7 from Shakeys Pizza (170 St. and Stony Plain Road). Rallies will take place May 12 and 26 and June 9 in addition to the one Friday.

More information on the Novice Rally Series is available at 464-5672 (Dean) or 452-3053 (Jay).

Peewee soccer coaches needed

The Hercules Sports Association still requires two coaches for peewee boys soccer. This involves one hour each for two evenings a week and the boys range from 10 to 12 years.

The peewee division increased from eight to 11 teams this year, and increase of some 42 boys. In all the division has 154 soccer players.

Anyone who could help out on the coaching end is asked to call Dave Seyler at 459-7135.

At the tryouts held on the weekend for boys interested in the travelling team for exhibition play, 30 boys turned out. The division is now considering both an A and B travelling team.

Ladies ball tournament

A 16-team ladies fastball tournament will be held in Calahoo, May 27 and 28. Entry fee for this popular event will be $50 per team with a guarantee of playing two games. Any team wishing to enter can do so by calling Sharlene Berube at 458-2707. There will also be a dance in the arena Saturday night.

Sturgeon swingers

Tee-off time 9 a.m. Tuesday, May 2 marks the official opening of the golf season for the Sturgeon Valley Ladies Golf Club with business girls teeing off at 6 p.m.

Judging from the turnout at the general meeting, the club can anticipate a membership of 100 lady swingers.

The week of May 8 marks the start of the Marshall, Podersky and Capilano Appliance Interclub tournaments. For more information read bulletin board or contact Anita Hunter or Shirley Fisher.

Fun Day is scheduled for 4 p.m. Saturday, May 13.

Until next time "Keep your eye on the back of the ball and swing through."

Gym Club sends rep to Provincials

The St. Albert Gymnastics Club was represented by Eva Kubac in the Provincial Gymnastics Meet held April 16.

This was a meet of the best eight girls of each category from the southern and northern zones. The club was pleased that Eva was able to represent it in the Novice class (12 - 14 years). Her balance beam routine gave her a seventh placing in that event. Uneven bars, floor exercise and vaulting earned 12th and 15th.

Many of the girls who took part in this meet will go on to try out for the national team.

On April 28 the gym club will be putting on a display in Spruce Grove at the town's Variety Recreation Night. Approximately 45 girls will be participating.

Presently the gymnasts are selling heavy duty garbage bags to raise money for equipment for the gym club.

Boating equipment required by law in Alberta

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, "K" Division, in an effort to improve boating safety, has prepared a series of articles on laws and regulations dealing with small boats, powered and non-powered.

Only 45 percent of Alberta boaters carry the proper equipment, and the tragedy is that 48 percent of all Alberta drownings investigated by the R.C.M.P. during 1977 involved small vessels.

The series of 15 articles begins this week in the Gazette with the hope that it may help save lives, and in support of the province-wide education program by the R.C.M.P.

What types of equipment are required for a boat? In Canada, the requirements vary with the boat size. For any vessel under 18' an approved lifejacket, personal floatation device (P.F.D.) or life saving cushion for each person on board is required. You need two paddles or oars as well as a bailing can or manual pump. A fire extinguisher is mandatory on a vessel equipped with an inboard engine, built-in fuel tanks or cooking or heating apparatus. If the boat is between 18' and 26' then the requirements change slightly. You must carry an approved lifejacket or P.F.D. for each person, a bailer or manual pump, in lieu of two paddles you can use an anchor and 50' of line and if the boat is power driven then a fire extinguisher is required. There must be an approved throwing device such as an approved cushion, buoyant heaving line or approved life buoy. In addition, it is recommended that you carry a first aid kit, flashlight and a tool kit. If your motor uses shear pins, then carry extras and know how to change them.

TODAYS BOATING TIP

Even though your boat has electric bildge pumps, you must still carry a bailing can. No expense need be incurred in this. Simply use an ice cream bucket, or better yet, take a bleach bottle and cut the bottom off. Leave the cap on and you can use this as a bailer or as a funnel when the cap is removed.

Tennis Club ready for season

Court times scheduled for the St. Albert Tennis Club, which operates mainly at the Mission Courts, will be effective on May 1, 1978: Monday, Wednesday, Friday evenings from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m. and Sunday afternoons from 1 - 4:30.

The Tennis Club also has time at the Akinsdale Courts on Thursday mornings 9:30 - 11:30, Thursday evenings 6:30 - 9:30 and Sunday evening from 6:30 - 9:30.

Interclub has priority at the Mission Courts on Wednesday from 6:30 - 9:30 and at Akinsdale on Sunday evening from 6:30 - 9:30.

In order that new members may get better acquainted, the Tennis Club organizes novelty doubles tournaments once monthly with a social gathering after the play. The first will be held May 22, 1978.

Members also become eligible for the Interclub teams and the club is entering one A, two B and 2 C teams in the league this year.

Beginning early in May, club members are invited to come out to Ladies mornings on Tuesday each week from 9:30 - 11:30 at Akinsdale.

On Thursday morning at Akinsdale the club will run a Ladies League for club members only. They will have teams and play doubles and singles. They hope this will be a fun morning with good tennis.

People interested in joining the Tennis Club may come down to the Mission Courts at club times and play a few games. Fees to join the Club are as follows: Adult fees are $10 and Juniors $5 - (a junior is under 18 years during the entire tennis season).

They hope to see some new members out on the courts.

Edmonton Oilers last goal of the season in the Coliseum came Friday night when Dennis Sobchuk beat goaltender, Louis Levasseur of the Whalers with a shot from close in. Teammate Blair MacDonald (14), was in position for any possible rebound as he got in behind Whalers defenseman Rick Ley (2). Oilers lost the game 8-1 and were eliminated from anymore playoff action Sunday when they lost 4-1 to New England.

Oilers out of playoffs

New England Whalers scored a 4-1 win over the visiting Edmonton Oilers Sunday night and will now advance to the semi-finals in the W.H.A. Oilers managed only one win in the five playoff games, a 2-0 shutout last Wednesday in Edmonton.

The game was in doubt until the final minute of play when the Whalers scored a pair of goals.

Gordie Howe scored the only goal of the second period to give New England a 1-0 lead with both teams playing a man short.

Ex-Oiler Mike Antonovich with his sixth of the playoffs put Whalers out in front 2-0 at 5.28 of the third.

Paul Shmyr scored the only Oiler goal of the game at 7.23 with a shot from the point that Whaler goaltender Louis Lavasseur had no chance on.

Oilers pulled goaltender Dave Dryden with a minute left in the game and John McKenzie scored into the open net with the insurance goal. Twenty-five seconds later Dave Keon scored the Whalers fourth and final goal.

In other W.H.A. playoff games, Winnipeg Jets eliminated Birmingham Bulls four games to one while Houston Aeros defeated Quebec Nordiques 5-2. Nordiques lead their best of seven series three games to two.

Number of bikers increases

Bike riding fun should go together with bike riding safety, states the Alberta Safety Council.

In announcing the start of the 1978 Pedal Pusher season, the Council points out that Albertans can expect an increase in the number of bikers on our streets this year. Some will be beginners, others will have graduated to the newer, bigger 10-speed which they may have trouble controlling. Many will have an important basic need to learn correct attitudes, skill and knowledge in order to cope with today's traffic.

Organizations such as community leagues, service clubs, recreation departments, home and school associations, municipal police, RCM Police, Military Police provided their support last year toward graduating over 8,000 youngsters.

Anyone wishing information on how to organize the Pedal Pushers should contact the Alberta Safety Council, 10526 Jasper Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta T5J 1Z7. Phone 428-7555.

In Edmonton or Calgary, contact your local Safety Council.

Ban power boats on Astotin Lake

Power boats on Astotin Lake in Elk Island National Park will be banned from April 1, Supt. Fred Bamber said recently.

"The public told us, during the master plan hearings, that they wanted the power boats off. Since we believe they have a detrimental effect upon wildlife and waterfowl, we're happy to oblige."

Mr. Bamber said canoeists and sail boats would continue to be acceptable users on Astotin Lake, which is about two miles long and a mile wide. "Without power boats, there will be less conflict with other small water craft and I'm sure nesting ducks will be glad to have the noise pollution eliminated."

The 75 square-mile park, 30 miles east of Edmonton, is a rich habitat for many kinds of wildlife and it was public interest in the preservation of that wildlife that led to its establishment as a national park in 1930. The park attracts 350,000 visitors a year.

Canada - Romania fish agreement

The Department of External Affairs announced recently the signing of an agreement between Canada and Romania on Mutual Fisheries Relations. The Agreement, signed on Jan. 17th in Bucharest, by the Ambassador of Canada to Romania, Mr. J. E. Thibault, and the Romanian Secretary of State for Food Industry, Mr. Petre Blajovici, comes into force immediately.

The Agreement sets out the terms and conditions that will govern continued fishing by Romanian vessels within areas under Canadian jurisdiction. It permits Romanian vessels to fish in the waters concerned, under Canadian authority and control for resources surplus to Canadian authority and control for resources surplus to Canadian requirements. The treaty also recognizes the special interest of Canada, including the needs of the Canadian coastal communities in the fisheries resources beyond and immediately adjacent to the Canadian 200-mile zone.

St. Albert Comets Captain Rich Perrault accepts the Alberta Major Intermediate Hockey League trophy from President Bill Mojelski following the Comets 3-2 win Thursday night over Sherwood Park Barons in the league final. Comets also won the trophy last year with a victory over the same Barons.

Report out on Sturgeon River system

A public information program designed for local councils is due in mid-May as Alberta Environment's interim report on the Sturgeon River basin.

Some refer to the Sturgeon River basin study as the most uncontentious government document ever produced.

Alberta Environment have been seen "peddling" their report on the Sturgeon River and its basin at regular council meetings over the past year or two. Information available is on the flood patterns of one of the quietest river systems in Alberta, and means to control it.

Environment planners seem surprised at the lack of interest by civic officials in the local water level problem. They will be spending all summer gauging reaction as they visit about 18 municipalities affected by the report's recommendations. Among these are the MD of Sturgeon and St. Albert.

Flooding by the Sturgeon River as far as St. Albert is concerned is very rare, a once in a 100 year event. The last time parts of St. Albert were affected by the river was in 1974. Farm land out by Riviere Qui Barre is also affected by water levels on the Sturgeon River.

Carl Primus, director of the planning division says Alberta Environment hopes to have a final report ready later this year with implementation starting next spring.

The interim report released in December is the technical part of a more comprehensive study dealing with water level problems on Isle Lake, Lac Ste. Anne and on the Sturgeon River flowing through St. Albert.

Major control structures would be a two-lake outlet costing $750,000 on Isle Lake and Lac Ste. Anne. They would benefit cottage residents, especially those in the Alberta Beach area.

Controlling the flow will also aid fish and wildlife habitat as well as alleviate flooding downstream.

A planner with Alberta Environment says the study was necessary to really get to know the river system and solve the problems with some hope of success.

An open letter

The emergency ambulance service in MD Sturgeon

If someone said to you that within the Municipal District of Sturgeon #90 there is probably the best rural emergency service (EMS) in Canada, what would you say? This is probably a fact if the service operated by the City of St. Albert is included in the scenario.

To explain: There are three bases within the MD area, the first in St. Albert, a municipally run Paramedic service operated through the fire department. The second service would be the volunteer Morinville and district reserve squad, an independent, non-profit organization registered under the Societies Act of Alberta. The third service is the volunteer Bon Accord-Gibbons squad based in Bon Accord and operated by the Sturgeon Branch of the Order of St. John. With inter-squad co-operation, the three services provide an extremely high level of emergency care within the MD and often outside the area.

You may wonder about the level of training that the volunteer units have. Due to lack of formal training programs in Alberta for emergency medical technicians (EMT), Bon Accord and Morinville began their own program following the guidelines of the U.S. National Registry of EMT's. In Alberta, the minimum requirement for ambulance personnel, according to the Public Vehicles Act, is a St. John Ambulance standard First Aid certificate. Thus the training which has been an ongoing thing for two years now is well above what is required by law.

How do the three services work together? There are two instances where the volunteer units will radio for the St. Albert Paramedics. They are (1) a call in which a patient may be suffering from heart complications. The paramedics will either meet the volunteer unit at the scene or at a rendezvous on the highway. (11) a call in which the patient is trapped in a vehicle or other circumstances requiring heavy rescue equipment.

The St. Albert squad is presently hoping to purchase the "Jaws of Life," a $7,000 hydraulic rescue tool often seen on TV's emergency program. The fire department members and service clubs are raising money through various projects to pay for this equipment.

The Volunteer Squads are not one or two-man operations either. They are squads of upwards of 20 people each, who care enough about their fellow man to donate their time and skills for the service of others.

Whenever you are within the MD you are only minutes away from help.

Who pays for all this? - The St. Albert taxpayers pay for their excellent service. Morinville and Bon Accord-Gibbons are self supporting. Both Morinville and Bon Accord-Gibbons need additional equipment, including a communication system to make the whole emergency service in the MD that much more efficient.

Hopefully the MD council will eventually recognize what they do have and help accordingly!

Bon Accord-Gibbons Emergency Service.

Redwater girls winners in essay contest

"Safety for Rural Youth" was the theme for the 1978 Rural Safety Essay Competition, sponsored by the Alberta Safety Council.

Sturgeon School District #24 made a good showing in the competition. Two Redwater girls, Janice Weist and Cheryl Budney were divisional winners for grades 5 and 6 and grades 7 and 8 respectively. Both girls took a narrative approach to the topic and each told the story describing the results of neglecting safety. Both essays were well written, instructive and entertaining.

This years winners from grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 will be honoured at a luncheon on April 28 at the Convention Inn South, Edmonton, at which time Provincial Awards will be presented by His Honour, Lieutenant-Governor Ralph Steinhauer.

"Approximately 42,000 pupils, representing 49 school jurisdictions, wrote essays this year," reports Mrs. Lois Hole, chairman of the Rural Safety Essay Committee. "We are extremely pleased with this response," she added.

Judging was first undertaken at classroom level, the best essays were then forwarded to Superintendents at each school jurisdiction, and the best of these were then sent to the Alberta Safety Council. Final selection and provincial winners were chosen by a panel of teachers from the Correspondence School Branch in Edmonton.

First place winners were:

Grade 5 - Lise Langevin - St. Paul Elem. School, St. Paul S.D. #2228.

Grade 6 - Douglas Dobush - Peter Svarich School, County of Minburn #27.

Grade 7 - Cindy Harasimiuk - Ardmore School, Bonnyville S.D. #46.

Grade 8 - Richard Rabusic - St. Mary's School, Southern Alberta R.C.S.S.D. #54.

In all, there were 86 winners in the contest this year, including the provincial winners. Winners receive a pin, which they keep, and the school receives a plaque with the student's name on it for the classroom. The four provincial winners also receive a $50 cash prize.

Motorcycle gangs rumble in Morinville

Two motorcycle gangs from Edmonton got into a four minute pitched battle in the Morinville Frontiersman Inn Saturday night.

About 20 gang members were involved in the fighting and some suffered cuts and bruises from the fight.

Morinville R.C.M.P. may be considering in laying charges following the incident but no one has yet been charged according to a spokesman for the police department.

No damage was reported at the Inn in spite of what sounded like a ferocious scrap.

R.C.M.P. said they were called to the Frontiersman at 9:30 p.m. but the police were not involved in breaking up the fight, which had subsidied by the time they arrived.

There was no identification from the R.C.M.P. about the names of the gangs, whether they were "Hell's Angels" or "Rebels."

Should soon have new District Ag.

There's no permanent replacement for former Sturgeon District Agriculturist Wally Klatt as of this week.

But there should be one at the Alberta Agriculture office in Morinville's MD building by May 2, according to word from the office.

Mr. Klatt after a good stint as the district agriculturist has been away from the Sturgeon area for four months, taking a post in Red Deer.

A resource person from Alberta Agriculture comes into the Morinville office on a once weekly basis and will continue doing so until the permanent replacement arrives next month.

BACK TO THE LAND

The fields in the MD of Sturgeon are drying up fast with the recent warm temperatures and wind, allowing the farmers of the area to get on with their field work in preparation for spring seeding. This farmer was hard at work in a field just south of Daugh.

Alcomdale News

By Beryl Bailey

Recent visitors to Mrs. J. M. Bailey's were Mr. and Mrs. Alex Benson and their daughter. Mrs. H. Huntley of Edmonton, Mrs. Huntley came to show Mrs. Bailey her great-great niece Charlene, aged nine weeks old, older sister, Candace was also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Brenneis and family enjoyed the family get-together of Mrs. Brenneis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Borle of Villeneuve on April 14. The happy occasion was the 55th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Borle. Following Mass in St. Peter's the family enjoyed a dinner and social time in the Hall in Villeneuve.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Falls have returned home after spending a month in the United Kingdom. They spent a week visiting in Belfast with the family of their daughter-in-law, Mrs. David Falls. They enjoyed the Irish country, but bombing and the trouble continues. One evening they had to leave a cabaret because of a bomb scare. Touring southern Ireland by motor with friends included Dublin and other points. Time in London in the heart of that city added pleasure to their trip, they saw the Queen at close range one day as she passed in her car. The Thames, Westminster Abbey etc. were also visited, and Wales and Scotland were included too, about a week in each country. On the whole a most interesting and enjoyable trip.

Spring continues to elude us, wild geese were noted going over on Saturday the 15, the first this reporter has seen or heard. Grass is turning green and for the first time Friday night frogs were heard, it is said they must be frozen up twice before spring comes to stay!!

INDEPENDENCE

In spite of the dull cool weather and snow on ground anything but springlike, most of the members of Independence W.I. attended the Mid-Pembina Constituency Conference which was held April 15 in the Picardville Hall. In addition to the members they took two guests, Mrs. J. M. Bailey of Alcomdale, and Mrs. A. Benson of Independence.

This year's theme was, "Family Life Through Changing Years." Mrs. Margaret Hunt, constituency convenor chaired the meeting. Echo Hill W.I. was the hostess branch. Mrs. Mortell of Echo Hill branch gave the address of welcome which was replied to by Mrs. J. Arlow of the Independence branch. The usual business of such a conference was discussed, reports of committees etc. Following the morning session a hot turkey dinner with all the trimmings were served which was enjoyed very much by all present. Halfway through the morning session there was a sing song with song leader Mrs. Dorothy Borle starting off the group. Mrs. Pauline Kzdrowski, District 2 director, gave her address followed by the Penny March which brought in a generous sum for the work in Kenya and Nairobi.

The handicrafts of the branches were judged by Mrs. Dent and Mrs. De Boeck. They gave their report and some suggestions on such handicraft, which included home baking items. The trophy for most points went to Westlock and Echo Hill who tied for that place. The trophy was to grace each W.I. branch for six months. It was felt that was the best way to share it. Independence came second with one point less than the two top branches. Entertainment included a skit, by Belvedere W.I. on the old fashioned ways of doing housework, scrub-board, sad irons, and oil lamps. Songs were sung by the cast to typify the activities, such as parodies on such songs as "Long Long Trail A Winding."

Picardville W.I. gave an amusing skit, "The Story of an Egg." Both were enjoyed by the audience.

A tribute to the members of all the branches who had been members for "Thirty Years and More." About 15 members were in that group. Quite a few had been members for almost 40 years and some even more. Mrs. J. Mitchell joined in 1922 while living in Independence district. Mrs. Plaizier, 1st vice president - gave an interesting address on her trip to Nairobi and Kenya with the Country-women of the World Association. They were entertained at a meal in a simple way with ordinary women of Nairobi. The meal consisted of vegetables and fruit, some of which was eaten from the hand. The contrast between Western life and natives there was noticed when a man came down the highway wearing a loincloth, but had a transistor radio glued to his ear.

Favours in the way of pens, pencils, note pads, key rings and small plastic bags to put them in were given out with compliments of local businessmen.

The Women's Institute is a very active organization, they work for the good of their communities and also farther afield helping with many things to aid the country as a whole. Funds were raised through the year by branches with projects such as bingos, teas, fabric sales, garden shows. They also sponsored courses in many things from furniture refinishing to handicrafts. They toured Pembina Gardens, Muttart Conservatory, had a UN supper and collected eye glasses for Operation Eyesight. Communities in which the W.I. are active are very lucky indeed. Tea was served to end a most pleasant and informative day.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Whitson were among those holidaying during the Easter season. They spent a week or so at the West Coast, visiting their son, Brian and family in Vancouver. While there they struck rainy weather for most of their stay.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Cameron also went Vancouver way where they visited their son, Stuart and family in Surrey. As most do they toured around the Vancouver area and returned home via the Okanagan, where they visited other relatives. They report a nice trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Benson spent a day in Barrhead recently visiting the Rev. and Mrs. J. Nicholas. Mr. and Mrs. M. Davidson accompanied the Bensons.

Raymond Scott who was badly injured in a car accident during the Christmas holiday season and has been ill ever since, is reported to be able to speak a little now. The Scott family are former residents of the area having farmed the former Simes' quarter some years ago. Raymond's mother reported his improvement to her former neighbours. The family now live in Edmonton.

MR. & MRS. CYRIL BORLE

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Borle married 55 years

By Margaret Joy Borle

"A truly Christian couple, whose lives are an example to the rest of the community."

Thus Father Hugh Roche praised Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Borle, as the couple celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary on April 14, with a Mass at St. Peter's, Villeneuve.

Born in Belgium, Gerarda Boddez and Cyril Borle both came to this country as children, with their parents, pioneers of the Riviere Qui Barre and Villeneuve districts.

They were married in St. Emerency Church, Riviere Qui Barre, on April 19, 1923, by Father Rupert McNab, and began their married life in the old Ray Hotel, by then no longer used as a hotel, but as the home farm of the Pierre Borle family.

Since they had the largest house around, and because of their proximity to the Ray school, (a short distance away, on the same quarter section), Cyril and Gerarda's home was also home to many of the teachers who came to the Ray school.

When these teachers are remembered now, it is with the same affection and interest as members of the family. On a recent trip to Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Borle spent some time in England, at the home of the former Miss Wootton, who was only too happy to return some of the hospitality that was shown her as a young teacher at Ray.

After the celebration of Mass, a family party was held at the Villeneuve Hall, at which Mr. and Mrs. Borle's seven children, most of their 37 grandchildren and four of their great-grandchildren were present.

Brothers and sisters of the happy pair were also present to wish them well, but a brother and one sister of Cyril Borle were unable to attend because of illness.

The Epistle of the Mass, read by George Borle, emphasized the power of love, and in proposing the toast to his parents later in the evening, Harold Borle recalled that theme, and thanked his parents for their years of devotion to their family.

Their many friends and relatives in the district, wish Cyril and Gerarda Borle many more happy years together.

CAN YOU REALLY AFFORD TO GIVE WILD OATS A HEAD START?

Pre-emergent Avadex® BW controls wild oats before they steal moisture and nutrients from your crop.

Increase yield with Avadex® BW

Avadex® BW=1.25 lbs./acre Source: Bowden & Friesen (1967) University of Manitoba

As you can see, there's a lot to be gained by controlling wild oats before they break ground. And pre-emergent Avadex® BW herbicide by Monsanto does just that. Avadex BW is absorbed directly by young wild oat shoots, before they get a chance to do their worst damage.

Bear in mind, too, that post-emergent treatments must be made at a certain wild oat leaf stage, which can be tricky in bad weather.

30% more wheat* with Avadex BW

In a wide variety of test plot studies, wild oat infested crops treated with pre-emergent Avadex BW yielded 30% more wheat on the average than untreated fields. This is due to an impressive 90% + rate of control - - effective, early-season control.

Get the jump on wild oats in 7 crops.

Pre-emergent Avadex BW is just as effective in barley, flax, rapeseed, dry peas, sugarbeets and mustard as it is in wheat.

*Actual results may vary depending on use conditions.

Just incorporate liquid Avadex BW immediately after spraying. And to check for results, use an untreated check strip, or dig up the evidence of dead or dying wild oat shoots from a treated strip.

You'll find that without a head start, wild oats can be a lot less successful at robbing your yields. Always read and follow the label directions for Avadex BW.

Guides active in life of Redwater

According to Redwater Guide Captain Lois Parker, "Camping is the highlight of the Guide year." The girls take to the natural life in all weather, cooking outdoors and improvising implements to use in the wilds. Because of the extensive planning required, this year's camp, to take place in the first or second weeks in August, is already in the organizational stages. The camp is important to the guides as each camping experience qualifies the girls for camps and meetings in locales all over the country and the world.

Every girl can find a place in Guides. All she needs is an interest in the movement. Should she move, she can join another company in her new home. Guiding encourages companionship, co-operation, learning and education in all aspects of life

To accomplish this end, lectures and courses are given in a number of fields, such as recent guide programs in Redwater relating to drugs and alcohol, home nursing and child care. Projects are always underway in art, guide history, gardening, creative crafts, citizenship, heritage, native lore, etc. Girls from the ages of 10-14 are welcome to join.

CAPTAIN RETIRING

Captain Lois Parker has served for four years as guide captain, and will retire at the end of this guide year. Lois is a busy wife and mother as well as a farmer, and needs more time to devote to her family and the family business. However, she is not retiring from the girl guide movement and is considering taking a job as Lone Guide Captain. As such, she would serve as captain to guides living in areas where there is no organized company, or in the event that a girl is handicapped and cannot join a company in another area. In this situation, the guide and captain may never meet, but will form a relationship by letters which are sent out twice a month. The letters give information on badge work, activities and educational games in the guide movement. The captain's main task is to foster and maintain the lone guide's enthusiasm, and keep her achievements up to date.

We will miss Lois Parker, who served as a Brown Owl with the Brownies for one year before she became Guide Captain. We wish to offer her our thanks and appreciation for her years of devoted service to her community.

Evelyn Kucy, a Redwater homemaker, will fill the position of Guide Captain in September. Evelyn started her training for the job last week, but will be needing a lieutenant, as our present lieutenant, Cathy Dunn is also retiring, due to a forthcoming addition to her family. Cathy was a Brownie for two years and a guide for two years, and has been a lieutenant for one year. Many thanks to Cathy for her assistance and service. Any interested woman with community spirit and concern for the welfare of our young girls can become lieutenant. No previous guiding experience is necessary. Anyone who would like to serve their community while forming new friendships can answer Evelyn's plea for help. She needs you, as do the Guides! Leaders must be able to get together at least twice a month to discuss the business of their company and should be able to work hand in hand. It can be both fun and rewarding.

Redwater Legion and Ladies Auxiliary News

The Legion, world-wide, was formed as an association of those who served in the armed forces, and is dedicated to work for the welfare of the ex-service person and dependents. That was over half a century ago and the average age of the world/war average age of the world war/veteran is now 33. It is almost 35 years since World War 2, whose veterans are an average age of 60 years. Lets face it, we are what the young people of today consider the "Past Generation." This aging membership is our basic problem, and the need for young members led the 1972 Dominion Convention to decide to allow the sons and daughters of ex-servicemen and women elegible for ordinary membership to join the legion as associate members. Although not permitted to vote or hold office, these young people have been joining in great numbers and are contributing to the work and vitality of many branches. Why not in Redwater?

It is the Legion's hope and belief that, in the years ahead, these new, young members will carry on the worthwhile traditions and work of the organization "To you from failing hands -- Lest we forget."

Remember to keep Thursdays free for the Legion bingos and whist, and our Friday evening socials. These socials are being put on for the public who don't really want to do a lot of driving to get to and from, and if you don't attend, eventually they will be discontinued. Next Farmers Market will be May 13 in the Legion Hall, and next regular meeting (3rd Monday of every month) is May 15.

Comment:

Lesson to be learned from TV's "Holocaust"

Last week after the showing of Holocaust on T.V. came the question: Why? What's the point in digging up old hurts, memories, and why at this time? These questions are difficult to answer but maybe we need something like this to jolt us into remembering why to many of our men gave up their lives on foreign soil. They served and diedd to insure this (axis) power sweep was contained, that it never over-ran our country and people. We enjoy our freedoms today because men of the free world fought and many died to ensure us and future generations of this freedom. Unfortunately many of the younger generation don't realize how precious this freedom is and what it costs. Your forefathers fought power hungry nations of Germany, Japan and Italy to ensure you of your freedom of choice; choice of government, choice of religion, choice of education, choice of your very future. Look around you. In our town we have almost every nationality and we live in peace and harmony, because we remember.

This is one of the main reasons the world-wide organization, the legion, was formed way back in 1918. We cannot prevent future wars but we can help you remember what it was like, and what a price we paid. So we have and a showing of "Holocaust" although not too often. We need it not to renew old hatreds or hurts, but to ensure we remember how we got here and why we enjoy these freedoms. "Lest We Forget."

Scouts learn ski-doo lore

On April 3, the Redwater Cubs and Scouts were kindly invited by Mr. and Mrs. Makar of Markar's Sports Centre in Redwater, to an evening of lecture and entertainment. The boys were taught the safety rules, use and handling of ski-doos and motorbikes by Mr. Makar. He later presented the boys with pamphlets, calendars and iron-on pictures. To close the evening, Mrs. Makar donated and served everyone hot dogs and pop. The evening was greatly enjoyed and appreciated by all. Any boys interested in joining the group this fall, please contact Mariann Yakubow at 735-2156.

Redwater Report

By Marguerite Neufeld

Redwater Ukrainian Dance Club will hold their annual concert on Friday, May 12 at 7 p.m. in the Redwater Highschool gym. Everyone welcome.

United Church Women are holding their Spring Tea and Bake Sale on Wednesday, May 10, from 2 - 4:30 p.m. in the Church hall. Everyone welcome.

St. Clare's annual Parish meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, April 26. Prior to the meeting, there will be a mass at 5:30 p.m. which will be followed by a turkey supper in the Parish hall. All parishioners please attend. The meeting itself will commence at approximately 7:15 p.m.

On Wednesday, April 26 at 6:30 p.m., the Minor Hockey Banquet will take place at the Multi-plex. It is a pot luck affair and admission will consist of enough food to feed all members of each family attending.

BROWNIE & GUIDE TEA

The Brownie's and Guides gave a tea recently from 4 to 5 p.m. to honour and thank the testers and instructors who have given freely and kindly of their services in various badge projects, lectures etc. The Brownies served tea and the Guides hosted the good citizens who tested each girl's achievements or lectured on topics of concern and interest to young women today.

The Redwater Brownies and Guides wish to publicly thank the following people for their kindness and efforts on their behalf. Brownies testors; Artist, Rose Strembiski; Collector and craft, Lorraine Grimson; Dancers, Ray Charue and Linda Ross; First Aid, Irene Manderville; Gardener, Lois Hall; Native lore, Thrift Skater, Denise Osetsky; Writer, Rose Strembiski. The following Guide testers for badges also received tribute: Bird watcher, Alex Chaba; Childcare and home nursing, Ruth Wall; Citizen, Ann Key; Creative craft, Doreen Fry; Dancer on skates, Beverly Salomans; Health, Theresa Chaba; Heritage, Native Lore, History and World Trefoil, Ann Smith; Hostess, Maryann Yakubow; Drugs, alcohol and smoking lecture, Joyce Thomas; Waterfront precaution and reaching assits, Denise Obetsky.

An enjoyable evening was had by nearly 200 women in Redwater on Thursday at the fourth annual Fashion show, sponsored by the Lionettes, wine and cheese was served while we delighted in the parade of the latest fashions from Hall and Jen's Clothier Ltd., Fort Saskatchewan. More on this event forthcoming.

Saturday, May 6 is Brownie and Guide's Cooky Day.

Redwater Sports

By James Neufeld

An exhibition Badminton tournament was held in Gibbons between Redwater and Gibbons Wednesday, April 19. Boys and girls tried for best in singles, doubles and mixed doubles. Each win would cast a point toward the town, with the highest total determining the winner. Gibbons came out on top with an easy victory of 22 - 16. Even though Gibbons won, Redwater has two strong doubles boys teams which gave Redwater half the points. Don Roshko and Tim Trom composed one team, and Craig Etty and Ken Sawka, the other. Our singles boys had a bad day, as Tim Rosychuk, Dave Prodaniuk came up empty handed.

Our girls doubles team, consisting of Cindy Atwood and Cathy Nelson on one team and Susan Hawn and Rhonda Madonski on the second, came up with a win a piece. Mixed doubles had a good and bad side. Blair Magas and Angie Chaba had two wins out of four possible, while James Neufeld and Veronica Greeca got zero out of four.

Another tournament of this kind on a day, as yet undecided, will be held this week and will be taking place in Redwater between these same two towns. I am sure Redwater is looking for revenge.

SOCCER

There is very little interest in soccer in Redwater this year. Kids who want to play but do not think they can make it, please try. Your efforts will be appreciated. If you are between the ages of six and 14 and wish to play, you can contact Mr. Timmer by phoning 735-3519.

HOCKEY

Hockey will end this season with the annual banquet at the multi-plex on Wednesday, April 26 at 7:00 p.m.

Air Cadets on Parade

On Tuesday, April 18, the squadron had two more people come out to speak on the subject of Law and Law Enforcement. Cadets learned about the duties and responsibilities of being a parole officer and heard of the help available through the Legal Aid Society.

On Saturday, April 22, wind and weather co-operated and the gliding scheduled was able to take place. After what seemed like a long wait while gliders and glider pilots were checked out, some 36 cadets were able to experience the thrill of free flight. This was the first time out this year for the gliders, and we were fortunate to get our gliding time early. We are hoping to have another opportunity before the season ends and are looking for a grass strip in our area suitable for the operation of the tow-plane and gliders.

Unfortunately, we had to cancel the bake-shoot because our rifles had not come back from being refitted.

Zone competitions will take place this weekend. Although we were not able to have teams entering this year, we plan to cheer on the other teams. Next year, we are hoping to give them some stiff competition.

Upcoming Events: May 12 - 14 - A weekend at Camp Wright.

May 15 - Blood Donor Clinic sponsored by Bon Accord.

Prizes awarded in hockey draw

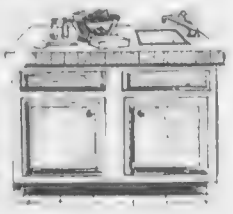

Following are the results of the Gibbons Minor Hockey Draw. The draw took place April 1, at the East Sturgeon Gentlemen's Hockey League tournament and prize winners were as follows:

First prize, a garburetor, Geoff Whaling, Gibbons; Second, Men's Digital Watch Jimmy Roe, Gibbons; Third, $50 - Ernest Lougheed, Gibbons; Fourth, Equipment Bag worth $50., won by Lawrence Romanick, Edmonton; Fifth, Team Canada Hockey Sweater, Dave Redmond, Edmonton; Sixth, $20 gift certificate, Fort Cycle and Sports, Don Sorenson, Spruce Grove; Seventh, Set of four Mugs, Mrs. K. Campian, 169 Evergreen Mobile Park.

The Minor Hockey executive would like to thank all the people who sold the tickets as well as all the people who bought them. We greatly appreciate all our sponsors as all the prizes were donated - thank you.

Morinville orders new fire truck

By Paul Krauskopf
Public Relations
Fire Department.

Volunteer fire fighting is becoming more and more of a specialized business. It takes team work and understanding to mold together a good effective department. After long hours of discussion and research Morinville Town Council and the Fire Department have agreed on and ordered a new fire truck. For those that have worked on it for sometime it is a dream come true but mo. . of all a necessity. A necessity, because of the inevitable loss of one of the MD fire trucks and the depleting condition of the 1950 Dodge fire truck presently not in use as well as a growing town.

All too often we read and hear that the volunteer fire department was called and did all they could, leaving one with the impression that most volunteer departments are unorganized and roam about a fire without any real knowledge of what and how everything is to be done. The Morinville Volunteer Fire Department is well organized and at a fire every man has a job thus making the department effective. With upgrading of equipment this effectiveness increases and fire losses are reduced. A new fire truck is a substantial improvement.

The new truck was ordered from Superior Emergency Equipment Ltd. in Red Deer, manufacturers of sophisticated fire fighting apparatus with many years of experience and knowledge. It will be purchased on debentures with the estimated cost around $68,000. It will be a 1978 Ford chassis with a custom cab lime yellow in color. This modern and up to date fire fighting apparatus is a mid ship pumper, double stage, 840 G.P.M. and boasts a variety of ultra modern equipment such as a 100 gallon foam tank, 400 gallon fibreglass water tank, tranverse operators panel, portable turret to name a few. It is comparable to units used by large centres and cities. Delivery should be sometime in June with an open house being planned to introduce the unit to Morinville.

It is with sincerity that the Morinville Volunteer Fire Department acknowledge the fire committee members Paul Froment and Ross Quinn, the mayor and members of council. It is gratifying to have such people thinking about the future of Morinville in all avenues. With increase of population and business the new fire truck is a welcomed addition and for this we thank them.

SENIOR CITIZENS 7th ANNUAL BARBECUE AND DANCE

If you have not purchased your tickets for the barbecue, you should do so very shortly, May 5, 1978 is the deadline date for Sturgeon Senior Citizens to purchase their tickets. Bill Cochrane and Walter Jerram have donated the Red Barn for this event which will be held on May 31. They have also reserved the east wing of the Red Barn for anyone that would rather play cards instead of dancing. To purchase your tickets, telephone anyone of the following clubs: Calahoo Golden Agers - Elsie Berry at 459-3291; Gibbons Last Round-up - Sheila Crosbie at 923-4465; Bon Accord Golden Gems - Joan Hill at 921-3674; Namao 60 Plus Club - Bruce Porter at 456-1729; Legal Club 60 Roses - Paul Montpetit at 961-3826; Villeneuve Happy Sixties - Bill Soetaert at 459-3102.

STURGEON HANDICRAFT FAIR "78"

Sturgeon Regional Recreation will again sponsor the Sturgeon Handicraft Fair '78 on November 4 and 5 in the Morinville Hall. Booths and tables will be set up for each community and they will be responsible for displaying and selling their handicraft items. This fair is open to anyone from the Sturgeon area to sell or display items that they have made. Each person will set their own prices on their handmade items. Sturgeon Regional Recreation will not charge any commission, but a fee of 50¢ will be charged at the door to help pay hall rental.

BATIK WORKSHOP

A series of evening sessions for instructors who are interested in learning the skills and techniques involved in Batik will be held in the Committee Room of the Municipal District Building, 9601 - 100 Street, Morinville, from 7 - 10 p.m. Some of the topics that will be covered include preparation of fabric, the techniques of waxing, the techniques of dyeing, and adaptation to children's programs. For further information, phone Sturgeon Regional Recreation at 939-4317 Deadline for registration is May 1.

BABYSITTERS SAFETY COURSE - CALAHOO

Recent graduates of the Babysitters Safety course in Calahoo are Nolan Horn, Marnee Horn, Bruce Patrick, Loretta Watson, Susan Watson, Colleen Gauthier, Sheila Patrick, Terry Switzer, Dean Trydal, Tracy Trydal, Brenda Watson, and Mary Ann Christen. Throughout the seven week course, the participants examined a number of topics which included the Ethics of Babysitting, Child Care, First Aid, Fire and Safety. Congratulations to all graduates and a special thank you to the instructor, Mrs. Joan Perrott.

ADULT SWIM

This 10 week program will offer instruction at beginner, junior, intermediate and senior levels. It will be held at CFB Namao, from April 30 - July 2, every Sunday night from 8 p.m. - 9 p.m. To register, please phone Sturgeon Regional Recreation at 939-4317.

CREWEL-TY?

. . . Pictured above on the right is Heidi Buckreus of Redwater instructing the Crewel Embroidery Course which is being sponsored by Sturgeon Regional Recreation in Legal. The 11 ladies registered in this course are turning out some beautiful pieces of stitchery. Heidi will be available to teach other Crewel Embroidery Courses after October 15, 1978. If you are interested, telephone your community contact.

Coach Maryanne Enright (above) presented Patrick Krauskopt with his trophy, he scored 69 points this year and his first penalty in three years. Serge Froment received "The Most Improved Player Trophy" and next to him is Joel Chevalier with the "Rookie of the Year Trophy." On the right is Jay Enright with the "Dave Kryskow Trophy." These young hockey players were all in the Mite "A" Division and received their trophies as part of this year's hockey banquet in Morinville.

Morinville Memos

By Margaret Yacyshen

The Board of Trade will meet at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, May 1 in the Historical and Cultural Centre. The guest speaker will be a representative from the Alberta Chamber of Commerce. Anyone wishing to attend the supper meeting is asked to contact Anne Kryskow at 939-4243.

The Lions Club will be holding its annual Winnifred Stewart Blitz Night on Tuesday, May 2. Morinville residents are asked to be generous when Lions members come canvassing.

A white elephant sale, sponsored by the Lions Club will take place on Saturday, May 13. Any miscellaneous items that people would care to donate would be appreciated. A pickup of articles can be arranged by phoning Ed Nattrass at 939-4033 during business hours or Neil Miller at 939-3641 after 6 p.m. Items may also be dropped off at Morinville Hardware. All proceeds from the sale will go toward community projects.

The Morinville Curling Club held its annual meeting on Wednesday, April 19 in the curling rink. The following slate of officers was elected for the coming year: President, Ernie Bokenfohr; Vice-President, Gib Boddez; Secretary, Margaret Yacyshen; Treasurer, Wayne Hittinger and Directors Ryan Meyers, Jim Vervynck and Jerry Yacyshen. Also on the Board are Ladies Curling Club President Jeannie Kachman and Ag. Society Representative Ross Quinn. A note of appreciation was extended to Colleen Brisson who is leaving the executive after a three year term as secretary.

The Kinsmen Club reports that the Green-Up campaign held last weekend was very successful. Club members worked on more than 60 residential lawns.

MORINVILLE KINDERGARTEN

Morinville Kindergarten registration for the 1978-79 year will be held on May 3 at 8 p.m. in the Recreation Centre. Children must be five years old by February 28, 1979. Parents are asked to bring child's birth certificate and a five dollar registration fee. Guest speakers will be present for the informative program which will follow.

JUVENILE PROVINCIAL VOLLEYBALL

In the juvenile provincial volleyball playoffs held in Morinville this past weekend the girls' team from Vanier placed third and the boys teams finished fifth. The girls team lost by a very close margin to the Calgary Blues who were the eventual provincial winners. Drumheller finished second, Calgary Gold paced fourth, and Red Deer fifth in the girls' section.

In the boys' competition, it was the Calgary Dinosaurs emerging the winners, followed by Wetaskiwin, Lethbridge, Drumheller, Vanier and Red Deer. The winners now advance to the Nationals to be held in Moncton, New Brunswick.

Vanier school teams played well considering most of their competition was from club teams drawn from larger areas. Two of the Vanier girls, Debbie Meyers and Suzy Riopel were asked to try out for the Provincial Juvenile team which will play in the Can-Am series this summer.

The 30 Mile Club will begin its 'Jog at Dawn' program in May, from 6:30 a.m. to 7 a.m. The run will start at G.P. Vanier High School. For more information, call the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council at 939-4317.

Anyone with news items is asked to contact Margaret Yacyshen at 939-3047, mail Box 100, Morinville or stop in at 9715 - 99A Avenue.

Shavers trim mothers 10 - 2

On April 9, Andy's Trucking Shaver A played the mothers for the season wind-up with Shaver A's winning the game 10-2. Goal scorers for the mothers were Simone (Blaster) Hnatiuk and Diane (Dynamite) Christie with lots of help from Judy Clarke, Anna Milner, Doreen Houle, Dela Royan, Vivian Pezer, Yvonne Lissack, Lorraine Bijou, Lil Bokenfohr and goalie Rose (Sieve) Hesse.

The mother's coaches Eleanor Wood and Wilma LaLonde brought in secret weapon "Mamma Puck" (Lil Boddez), plus three imported "mothers" in a valiant attempt to keep the shavers from scoring, but score they did with Bob Christie getting 3, Kevin LaLonde 2, Murray Bokenfohr, Brad Boddez, Jody Hudson, Neil Clarke and Todd Pezer one apiece.

Shaver A coaches Jim Wood and Carl Royan would like to extend thanks to the team sponsor Andy's Trucking to Paul Krauskopf for video-taping the game to Gib Boddez for his running commentary of the game, to Morinville Electronics for the donation of the A event trophy for the Shaver A tournament and to all the parents who gave up so much of their time to help out. It really was appreciated.

Namao Horse Show will run three days

The annual Namao Horse Show under the auspices of the Namao Gymkhana Club will be held at Namao, Alberta, on May 20, 21 and 22, 1978.

The Namao Horse Show has grown over the past many years from a small local farmer's day show to its present size accommodating 250 horses in the 1977 Show and it is presently one of the largest outdoor shows held in Alberta.

Because of the Shows popularity with horse enthusiasts, the Show Committee has increased the Show from a two day event to a three day event so that Stake, Hunter-jumper, Pony and Pleasure driving classes can be added.

A full range of activities has been planned by the Show Committee for your entertainment and pleasure.

A Beef barbecue is scheduled for Saturday evening followed by a performance of the Klondike Square Dance Riders Torch Dance. Sunday and Monday Sunrise Breakfasts start at 6 a.m. A bonfire Sunday night will be the gathering point to swap old horse tales with old and new friends, and a concession booth will be in operation for the three days.

The show committee extends an open invitation to one and all to come to Namao as a participant or spectator There is no charge for admission to the show grounds.

It is the aim of the Horse Show Committee to have this show held each year on the Victoria Day weekend, so plan ahead for the 1979 Namao Horse Show.

For further information and/or inquiries phone Mr. Capstick - 973-3571 or Mr. Forest - 973-3971.

Winners of the Logo Contest for the Village of Legal were: 1st prize, Angele Coulombe; 2nd prize, Sharon Dube. The council wish to thank all the participants for their time and effort.

The Edmonton Association for the Mentally Retarded, Winnifred Stewart School, will hold their annual Blitz Campaign on Tuesday, May 2, 1978. On this day, they will be canvassing from house to house. The objective for 1978 is $115,000 so be generous and support the Association for the Mentally Retarded.

The April 5 meeting was election night for the local Lions Club and they put forth their slate of officers for the coming year. Roger Holton was re-elected as president. Other successful candidates were: John Marchak, 1st vice-president; Bob Shedden 2nd vice-president; Gaston Parent, 3rd vice-president; Blaine Taylor, secretary; Real Durocher, treasurer; Cameron MacKay, Tail Twister; Marcel Pelletier, Lion Tamer; and Directors - Richard Smith, Yvan Gagnon Emil Yereniuk and Jim Hunting.

Several projects were discussed at the meeting. The Lions are now studying the possibility of constructing a community playground. They also sponsored a Lioness Club this year.

The Legal I.D.A. Drugs held their grand opening draws on Saturday, April 15. The winners are Warren Hanson - skateboard; Doris Bauwens - cedar tree; Lorraine Lessard - wooden magazine rack and chrome cake tray; Cecile Gagnon - digital clock; Cardine Lessard - silverplated serving tray; Joanne Montpetit - gift set; Alice Gagne - hunting knife; David Lalonde - chrome cake tray; Octavia Cloutier - blender; Paula Slobogean - camera; Bob Royan - gift set. Thanks to all for the support you've just given. Watch for future sales!

The Last Round-up

By Jean Toane

On April 13, 43 members and one visitor, Mrs. Wilson, met in the Legion Hut for their first meeting this month. Whist was enjoyed by those present, with first prizes won by Margaret Mabbutt, and Steve Lamoureux, and consolation prizes taken home by Jane Hood, and Jim Shaw. Some of us were lucky enough to play with two shiny new packs of cards given to us by Vera Hostyn. Thank you Vera.

We were pleased to welcome two new members from Spruceview Manor, Lillian Todd and Jean Fowler, and a twosome from the west of us, Cecile and Jack Strawson.

Sheila was doing a rushing business with memberships, and the sale of tickets for the annual barbecue. This will be held on May 31 in the Red Barn, and tickets will be available until May 5. Don't wait too long to pick yours up. This promises to be a real fun evening with entertainment, good music and dancing to follow those oh-so-delicious steaks!

While everyone was relaxing after a tasty lunch, Eula Mabbutt read us another of those chuckle-making yarns, this time a letter written by a mother to her son. If you really would like a copy of it, it might be arranged. Lunch hostesses for the day were Jane Hood, Lillian Potter and Jean Toane.

Quite a number of the members are planning to spend Monday afternoon at Agnes Petherbridge's curtain-hemming "bee". Plans were also discussed regarding day trips to Pembina, and the Game Farm. Also, a lot of interest was expressed concerning a longer trip to and including Barkerville, B.C.

A dozen industrious women, armed with needles and thread, thimbles and scissors, met at the Gibbons Drop-in Centre last Monday. They hemmed, pleated, sewed, pressed and finally hung all the drapes, then stood back to admire their handiwork.

We are very grateful to Agnes Petherbridge and her helpers for all the preliminary sewing which made this final hemming possible.

Also present at this workbee were Mollie Hall, Katie Brandle, Emily Oliver, Lizzie Sprague, Cathie Shaw, Jean Toane, Agnes Petherbridge and Jean Fowler, Aurore Lamoureux, Lillian Todd, Agnes Rippon, Susan Tidsbury and Katie Wanechko who are guests at the Manor.

Coffee was brought in from Spruceview kitchen, and we all enjoyed delicious spicy cupcakes cooked by Lizzie Sprague.

SUNDAY, MAY 7 - Auction sale to raise money for the Ambulance Emergency Service. Bon Accord Arena. Anyone wishing to sell articles may do so on a commission basis. Phone Lynda for information 921-2374.

Bon Accord News

By Sadie Allen

Seniors of Bon Accord and district who wish to attend the big bash for seniors at the Red Barn on May 31 are urged to get their tickets now. The deadline is May 5 for purchasing your tickets. For tickets or information regarding the "do," contact Joan Hill, 921-3674.

On behalf of the Canadian Red Cross Society, a big thank you to all those good people in Bon Accord and area who donated. Thank you also to all the canvassers who donated their time and energy -- Mrs. Beryl Evans, Mrs. Janet Lacasse, Mrs. Joyce Cosh, Mrs. Terry George and Mr. Logan Carleton. If by chance you were missed and would like to make a donation, please contact Mrs. Dorothy Potter, 921-2475.

There will be an important joint meeting of parents of the current kindergarten class and parents of the next term (1978-79) kindergarten children on Wednesday, May 3, at 8 p.m. sharp, in the school library. The short business meeting will be followed by a slide presentation of this year's kindergarten activities, courtesy of Mrs. Emily Mikulski. Parent participation is crucial and a good attendance is encouraged.

The 4H Clothing Club Achievement Day was held on Saturday, April 22 in the Bon Accord Community Centre. A fashion show was held with club members modelling their own outfits. Following the show a short resume on the displays and method of judging were given by Mrs. Gladys Macowich of Redwater, who judged the girls' work. Certificates were presented to first year members, Barbara Ginter and Karen Rockwell. On behalf of the Ivan Franko Educational Society Hall, Fedorah, Mary Broda presented plaques to second year members Cindy and Cheryl Danake. Representing U.F.A. Co-op Gas and Oil, Mr. Gib Paradis presented a plaque to Sharon Belziuk, and on behalf of the Bon Accord and district Ag. Society Mr. Bob Putnam presented plaques to Joyce Rockwell and Lorna Carleton. Simone Rivet was presented with the Red Barn Old Time Dance Society plaque. Each member received a gift of a pressing mitt from club leaders. Mrs. Florence Briggs, president of the Sturgeon 4H Council presented Simone Rivet with a silver tray, the award for placing first in the Sturgeon speak-offs held earlier this year at Gibbons for first junior camp. Simone Rivet will attend Camp Machinicolea with Barb Ginter as alternate, Sharon Belziuk, the second camp with Karen Rockwell as alternate. For seniors, Cindy Danake was chosen with Lorna Carleton as alternate. Lorna is also the club week delegate. On behalf of P & R Farms Mr. Gib Pearce presented prizes and trophies for Best Project; Unit 1 to Karen Rockwell; Unit 11 to Simone Rivet. The Best Seamstress award went to Lorna Carleton. On behalf of the Royal Bank, Jean Meyer presented a silver tray to Cindy Danake for Overall Points. A delicious lunch followed the presentations.

On behalf of the Golden Gems senior citizens club, a sincere thank you is extended to the club members and their leaders Carol Rivet and Gail Sinclair for the kind invitation to attend their achievement day.

A display of Irish Dancing and Ballet will be held at the Bon Accord Community Hall at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, April 30. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Children must be accompanied by a parent. Coffee and squares will be served.

Catechism students -- You are reminded of confirmation on May 10 and First Communion on May 14. For further information, contact Mary or Clay LeBlanc, 921-3690.

DANCE RECITAL

An invitation is extended to senior citizens of the area to attend the dance recital of students of Marion Nicholson at the Bon Accord school at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, April 28.

The bingo jackpot is now $425 in 51 numbers. Winner of the consolation prize was Mrs. Sharon Gagnon. The first bonanza was won by Mrs. Cherie Dutka, the second by Mrs. Fae McBride. Bingo goes at 7:30 sharp on Sundays in the Bon Accord Hall.

Get well wishes are extended to Louis Neilson in the Misericordia Hospital.

A very successful bottle drive was conducted by the Emergency Ambulance Service on April 23. If you were missed, contact Sandy McDougall, 921-3520 or Lynda Bland, 921-2374. A successful sale of fertilizer was conducted at the same time. There is still a quantity of fertilizer available. This will be on sale at the Auction Sale coming up on May 7 at the Bon Accord Arena and will also be on at the Farmers' Market on May 17.

The cadets will be sponsoring a Blood Donor Clinic on May 15 from 7 - 9:30 in the Bon Accord Community Centre. It is vital that all who are able, donate blood. Make sure you remember and attend.

The Ladies' Community Club will meet at the home of Betty West on May 3 at 8 p.m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Want to whittle down that waistline before summer? You could join TOPS. They meet regularly every Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Bon Accord school. The new executive are: Leader - Bernice Strid; Co-leader Eva De Leeuw; Secretary Faye Ison; Treas. Sharon MacFadyen; Weight Recorder - Fran Ketler; Asst. Weight Recorder - Kit Millwood. New members are cordially invited to attend.

To trim the waistline a little more, why not make a point of picking up those bits of paper etc. littering the street you live on or walk along. Makes for a neat looking village.

Gibbons Farmers' Market

Again the time has come to start making plans for a stall at our market. Anyone can set up a stall and anything can be sold. Come on farmers, you have a perfect chance to rid yourself of some of your spare parts for your machinery etc. You could even bring a cow! There is no end to the list of items you could sell. Date slated for market opening is May 20 in the Arena. If you have an excess of perennials, raspberry plants or whatever, be sure to attend. Let's make this market something to talk about. Stall rentals are $3. a night. For more information call Stella Langer at 923-2395.

Gibbons News

By Karen Hogg

On Friday, April 21, a Newcomers Pot Luck Supper was held in the Gibbons Community Centre, and what a successful supper it was! There were 140 chairs set up around the tables of which 125-130 were filled. Congratulations to all of the clubs for their table displays. There were displays all around the hall and everyone walked around reading and observing all that was on the tables. The supper was lovely with potato salad, lasagna, shepherds pie, chili, chicken, macaroni and cheese, coleslaw, roast beef, plus a host of other delicious salads, casseroles, pies and cakes. You would never find a smorgasbord as delicious as well as cheap as this one! Thanks to everyone for coming out and making this evening a very successful one.

On Saturday, May 6, the Gibbons Nursery School will be holding a bake sale and bazaar from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and following at 8 p.m., a bingo in the Gibbons Community Hall. Everyone is welcome to attend.

The Gibbons Sunday School Circle Ladies will be holding their annual plant, tea, bazaar, and bake table on Saturday, May 6 from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Sunday School Building. This is the perfect opportunity for you to pick up your perennial plants, house plants and shrubs for your gardens. So come on down and pick up your plants and have a cup of coffee or tea, a sandwich and some yummy home baking. While there you can check out what we have at our bazaar table and bake table. The ladies have really been busy and have made some really striking crafts for you. Tickets will also be available on our quilt raffle. The quilt which we made this winter and will be drawn during Agri-Fair on June 17. The tickets on this beautiful quilt are 25¢ each or five for a dollar. Proceeds will be going to the Senior Citizens Drop-in Centre. Be sure to mark your calendar and we will see you there.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the Speer family on the passing of James Speer on April 19, at the age of 63. He leaves to mourn his wife Marivonne, one daughter, Lynn Jewell, two sons Roy and David, and three grandchildren. Mr. Speer also leaves one sister, Mrs. Gladys Storie and two brothers Archie and Murray Speer. The funeral was on Monday, April 24.

The Coronado U.C.W. Unit 2 are holding their annual Mother's Day Tea on May 13 at the Coronado United Church. A bazaar, bake table and plant sale will also be available.

The Gibbons 4H Sewing Club will be holding their Achievement Day on April 29 from 1:30 to 4 in the Community Hall. Everyone is welcome to attend and see the beautiful fashions the girls have made. A tea will also be served.

Barbecue tickets for the Red Barn for the Senior Citizens must be purchased no later than May 4. If you have not got yours yet, please get a hold of Mrs. Sheila Crosbie.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CIRCLE MEETING

A regular meeting was held in the Sunday School on April 11. There were 15 members present. Of these two were newcomers - Pat Keown and Linda Algar. Evelyn Fraser was hostess with Gladys McWhirter helping with lunch. Karen Hogg was in the chair, while Cindy Williams acted as secretary. Roll call was answered with recipes, garden hints and bazaar articles. The tickets for the quilt raffle were made up and each member present took some to sell.

The members will be involved in the Farmerzs' Market this year. Two members each Thursday will dispense coffee and squares. We may also have a craft or novelty table.

Agri-Fair, to be held June 16, 17 and 18, has requested a display; and the members agreed to this.

A quilt will be made for Eleanor Drinkill as soon as she has her materials ready.

Marj Taylor gave the financial statement and a report on the banquet for which they catered on April 8.

Della Gibbons is having a farm auction sale on April 29. Members will supply and serve lunch as a token of appreciation.

The annual tea, bake sale and bazaar will be held in the Sunday School on Saturday, May 6. Tea will be served from 2 - 4 p.m. The charge is 50¢ for adults and 25¢ for children 10 and under. Everyone is welcome.

Message from the Chairman of the Trade Fair

As Chairman of the 1978 Trade Fair, I would like to express my thanks to this year's committee who have worked very hard to organize what we think will be a very interesting and entertaining Trade Fair.

The St. Albert businesses have again shown great support in entering exhibits in this year's Fair to display the products and services that are available in the community.

Top calibre entertainment will be performing on Friday and Saturday with the highlight for Sunday being a Fashion Show sponsored by the Grandin Shoppers' Park merchants.

The St. Albert Chamber of Commerce have established that the Trade Fair shall not be fund raising project but rather that it be a exhibition designed for the community. Therefore, in order for it to be a success, we require the support of the community in attending the Fair.

Give us your support and you could be a winner.

Bill Gardiner.

News on entertainment

This year's Trade Fair promises to be packed with funfilled entertainment for the whole family.

To bring back memories, the Unbalanced Four, a Barbershop Quartet. The quartet has been performing for the past 14 years at convention shows, barbershop concerts, and competitions in all the major centres in Western Canada and throughout the American Northwest. Barbershop quartet experience varies between 15 and 25 years for each of the members with a grand total of 85 years of barbershopping. Tenor is Hugh Skinner, lead is Dan Christopherson, bass is Mark Byington and baritone is Jack Watterworth. The quartet enjoys entertaining audiences and has a basic comedy approach to their presentations.

Magician, escape artist extraordinair, Bob Lang, has been performing for 25 years and promises to keep the adults as well as children mystified with his tricks.

Don Cook, a singer comedian of great renown has acted, directed and produced for many years. He has performed in most of the theatres in and around Edmonton.

Eric Attwood will set the mood for the entertainers with his magic fingers at the organ keyboard.

Introducing and co-ordinating the entertainment is Mike Denscombe, master of ceremonies, also a professional for many years.

An added highlight of all three days is the City of St. Albert's Community Services participation. These are our own residents entertaining and demonstrating facilities available to all of us. Included are gymnastics, dancing, teen and children's drama, belly dancing and senior citizens choir, the Groovy Grannies. See program for times of above entertainment.

Sunday only, there will be a special fashion show put on by the merchants of Grandin Shoppers Park.

Right from the opening ceremonies, Friday, with dignitaries marched in by the Air Cadets to the contest draws Sunday afternoon, the St. Albert Trade Fair will be entertaining, informative and fun for the whole family.

See you at the fair!!!

Message from the President of the Chamber of Commerce

As President of the Chamber of Commerce I want to express my gratitude for the excellent organization of Chairman Bill Gardiner which he activated with his hard working committee. The Trade Fair is not only possible by participation of local businesses and services but the unselfish efforts of a dozen or more members of our Chamber that have contributed so many hours these past three months, making this Trade Fair a huge success. Many thanks to all the participating businesses that have supported our Trade Fair by renting a booth.

To the citizens of St. Albert and area, we welcome you to attend this event and have the opportunity to examining the different products and services available to you in St. Albert. The slate of entertainment is excellent and with major door prizes and booth prizes that will be drawn it should prove an entertaining outing for the whole family.

See you at the Trade Fair.

Roger Lemieux
President,
St. Albert & District
Chamber of Commerce.

Don Cook

Greetings from the Mayor

On behalf of the City Council it gives me pleasure to wish the Trade Fair every success in the staging of this annual event. The previous fairs have all been beneficial to the community and I have no doubt that this one will do as much good.

I would urge all the citizens to visit the Fair and see exactly what all the local businesses are doing to develop the City and provide all the services necessary. In addition the Fair also includes a great many people who volunteer their services to make this event a success.

A lot of hard work has gone into organizing the Fair and all the people concerned are to be commended for their efforts so please attend and show your support for their contribution to the City.

Ronald H. Harvey
Mayor.
